EDITORS AND THE COLLEGE OF JOURNALISM

National Editorial Association Adopts Resolution Indorsing the College and Thanking Joseph Pulitzer for His Article on It.

SECOND DAY SESSION AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

Resolution Criticizing Fair Management for Repudiating Agreement to Revoke Admission Fee Referred to a Committee.

The members of the National Editorial Association met in the Hall of Congresses at the World's Fair at 10 o'clock this morning, with President P. V. Collins in the chair.

Immediately after the meeting had been called to order John Diamond, editor of the Sugar Planter of New Orleans, arose and asked permission to read an article which, he said, was of particular interest to newspaper men the world over. He then read the article by Joseph Pulitzer, published in the May number of the North American Review, replying to criticisms on the School for Journalism, founded by him.

The reading was given the closest attention. When Mr. Diamond had finished a round of applause filled the hall.

B. B. Herbert of Chicago, founder of the association, then arose and moved that the association extend the thanks of its members to Mr. Pulitzer for having written the article. The motion was carried.

"I would also offer a resolution," he said, "that this association does hereby indorse the School of Journalism, which means that it has the support of 1000 of the leading newspaper publishers in the United States."

The motion was carried by a rising unanimous vote and with cheers that lasted several minutes.

"In making this motion," said Mr. Herbert, "I wish to say that those who were early in the founding of this organization know something of the difficulties and discouragement attending the beginning of any new movement along this line. There must be a period of education of the public mind in establishing any great new thought.

"What Mr. Pulitzer has done is not for the profession of journalism alone, but for all the people who as soon as they learn of its scope will give it universal approval and praise. It is the belief of everyone who has given the matter of education any thought that everything that a man can learn by hard knocks he can be taught by education. Although practice will still be necessary to skill in newspaper work, there is no reason why we should force our young men to learn in the dear school of experience when through Mr. Pulitzer's generosity the ablest men in the profession may be employed to impart the knowledge to them.

"There is no field of knowledge which is not necessary to the editor. He must be conversant with economics and education, everything connected with or bearing on the welfare of the people. Therefore, no institution in the United States in the future will be found so important to the country as the college of journalism, because it is educating the educators of the people."

Criticize Rate at the Hotel.

J. E. Dowdall of South Dakota introduced a resolution criticising the Exposition management for repudiating an agreement with E. M. Stattler, proprietor of the Inside Inn, in regard to a 50-cent reduction on their daily hotel bill there. The editors complained that in their case it was especially arranged that the usual admission fee which is added to the expense of the Inside Inn guest should be stricken off. The resolution was referred to a committee to be reported upon tomorrow.

Sir Gilzean-Reid spoke on the "Institute of Journalists," and was listened to with interest by his hundreds of American auditors.

Reports of officers and of the committees on libel laws, ways and means, and credentials followed, preceding B. B. Herbert's address on "The British Institute of Journalists."

After a 15 minutes' recess, features of the program announced were a recitation by Mrs. Fanetta Sargent Haskell of Cuba, Mo.

Capt. Henry King, chairman of the executive committee on arrangements; Walter B. Stevens and Walter Williams have completed plans for the Press Parliament, and for the reception Wednesday evening in honor of Secretary of State Hay. At this Thursday night event President Francis, Sir Hugh Gilzean-Reid, Capt. Henry King and Secretary Hay will receive 3500 guests, and a dozen Japanese women will serve tea. The entire hilltop about the West pavilion will be reserved.

AGAINST CHANGE IN METHODIST RULES

By 55 to 43, Committee Reports Against Modifying Church's Attitude Toward Amusements.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 17.—The committee on state of the church of the Methodist general conference having in charg the consideration of the proposed change of the rules in regard to dancing, card playing and theatre going, has decided by a vote of 55 to 43 against recommending any change.

This result was reached only after a vigorous and prolonged contest in the committee meeting. A minority report, presented by members of the committee, who favor a liberal construction of these rules, will be offered before the conference.

It is expected the submission of these two reports to the general body will be the signal for the most spirited struggle that will occur on the floor during the present conference. As the day approaches for the election of bishops, additional candidates are appearing. Probably 20 names have been suggested in connection with this high office. Prominent among those announced today as strong possibilities is Dr. George Edward Reed, professor in Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa. Another is Dr. T. B. Ford of Oregon. The election probably will occur tomorrow.

During debate on the assignment of superintendents, Dr. Buckley declared "Dr. Neely has totally misrepresented Dr. Harris."

"Mr. Chairman," said Dr. Neely, "I rise to a point of personal privilege."

"Does the doctor object to 'totally misrepresented,'" asked Dr. Buckley.

"I do," replied Dr. Neely.

"Very well, then," said Dr. Buckley, "I withdraw it, and will say that anyone who construes the language of Bishop Harris on this matter as Dr. Neely has is in error."

Dr. Neely insisted that he had a right to clear up any charges of misrepresentation and was given the privilege to explain. He then read the paragraph from Bishop Harris' opinion and said: "I will not permit any man to say I am not absolutely square in anything I say or do."

FAIR LOSES CEREMONIAL HEAD

Col. E. C. Culp, Official of Two Great Expositions, Dies of Liver Trouble.

Telegraphic dispatches from Excelsior Springs, Mo., state that Col. Edward C. Culp, secretary of the World's Fair committee on ceremonies, died there Monday of cirrhosis of the liver, after an illness of a little more than a week. He had gone to Excelsior Springs soon after the opening ceremonies at the Fair in the hope of regaining his strength, his work in connection with the Fair having proven too much for his health. Instead of getting better, he continued to grow weaker and died Monday.

Col. Culp served in this same capacity with the Columbian Exposition. Until a successor is appointed his duties will be performed by Lieut. Haight, military secretary of the Exposition.

Col. Culp was born in Plymouth, O., 59 years ago. He served in the Civil war and was made a colonel at the age of 22. He has been a resident of Salina, Kan., since 1878, and the burial will be at that place.

"CUDDY MACK" GOES FREE

Naturalization Fraud Case Against Him Is Dismissed in the United States District Court.

The naturalization fraud case against John J. McGillicuddy (Cuddy Mack) in the United States District Court was dismissed by District Attorney Dyer Tuesday morning.

McGillicuddy was indicted last October on a charge of securing fraudulent naturalization papers for Charles Jungo, a resident of the Fourth ward. The case was nolle prossed.

WET GROUNDS; NO GAME

There was no ball game at League Park Tuesday afternoon. The grounds were in bad condition as a result of the rain all day yesterday and as there was no prospect of better weather in time to improve the field the game was declared off at noon.

This makes two postponed games in the present series with Philadelphia as the series should have opened Monday. President Robison stated that he did not like to take chances with the health of his players in the damp air today and the weather conditions would have held the attendance down to an inconsiderable figure. Most of the men on both teams hurried out to the Fair as soon as the word of postponement was announced.

HUSBAND IS FIRST VICTIM.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ELKHART, Ind., May 17.—Mrs. Seth Jones, of Elkhart, club woman and church worker, started a movement which resulted in the passage of an "anti-spitting" ordinance.

Today the ordinance went into effect and Beth Jones, her husband, was the first person arrested for violating it.

LOWDEN GOES TO FRONT, THEN FALLS AGAIN

Gains Lead of over 40 Votes on Thirtieth and Thirty-First Ballots, But Loses Them on the Thirty-Fifth.

AFTER THIRTY-FOURTH VOTE FIGHT GOES ITNO OLD GROOVE

Changes, Though Causing Much Excitement, Do Not Count Big Because 752 Are Needed to Nominate —Adjournment for Week Advocated.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 17.—Frank O. Lowden of Chicago took the lead in the voting on the 30th ballot when the Illinois Republican convention resumed its sessions today, after an all-night recess.

Yates lost what Lowden gained, but the break has so far not been of the stampede variety and the Yates delegations are standing the fire manfully.

A loss or gain of a dozen or more, or even 50 votes, to any candidate means very little when it is considered 752 votes are necessary to a choice, and that Lowden, who is highest, yet lacks over 270 votes of enough to nominate.

It is believed that the little flurry is over for a time, and that the balloting will go along again without great changes. Lowden may take another spurt, but it seems unlikely that he has enough uncovered strength just now to nominate him. In truth, the counties that came to him this morning out of the Yates strength have belonged to him since the delegates from each were named in their county conventions.

Unless the deadlock is broken before the day ends, and it is not indicated that the finish is in sight, a movement that is under way for a week's adjournment or longer is likely to be productive of results. There is a general belief among the delegates that they have stuck long enough to demonstrate that nothing can be accomplished until some of the candidates get together and the delegates generally want to give them the opportunity and plenty of time.

The fact that the break was coming was known to the Yates forces when the roll-call began and they discounted its importance by informing their delegates in advance and cautioning them not to become alarmed or permit themselves to be carried away by the demonstration that was likely to follow the first break in the Yates column after 29 solid ballots, up to recess last night.

Kane county was the first to separate from Yates. Since the first roll call it has stood Yates 26, Deneen 4. Today it cast 26 votes for Lowden, 3 for Deneen and 1 for Yates. A turmoil followed, but was quickly suppressed by Cannon, who is against all stampede propositions, even though he desires Lowden's nomination. The second break in the 30th roll call came when Will county was reached and cast its 25 votes for Lowden.

Since the first ballot Will County has voted its solid delegation for Yates, although it has been contended by the Lowden people that Will County was ready to be delivered to Lowden whenever the time was ripe for a change. Congressman Howard Snapp and Warden E. J. Murphy, one of Yates' closest leaders, named the Will County delegation. Will County's switch to Lowden and also that of Kane confirms the repeated statement in these dispatches that both the big counties, while voting for Yates like veterans, are not for him.

Kane is Hopkins' home county and to the junior senator and Congressman Snapp has fallen the work of attempting to break the deadlock. Both have held back from taking the lead, but the pressure of the federal administration has finally become too strong to be withstood.

The break in the two big counties made Lowden the leading candidate on the roll call, and for the first time in thirty ballots put Yates in second place. The thirtieth ballot:

Lowden, 452; Yates, 437; Deneen, 382; Hamlin, 111; Sherman, 51; Warner, 44; Pierce, 21.

For five minutes after roll call was completed the Lowden delegates were in an uproar. The secretary lost little time in counting up the vote, and then Speaker Cannon restored order and quiet. Announcing the result of the first ballot of the day, Cannon ordered the thirty-first roll call to proceed.

The thirty-first ballot: Yates, 431; Lowden, 473; Deneen, 383; Hamlin, 107; Warner, 32; Sherman, 30; Pierce, 21.

Thirty-second ballot: Yates, 429; Lowden, 473; Deneen, 383; Hamlin, 109; Warner, 33; Sherman, 49; Pierce, 22.

Thirty-third ballot: Yates, 428; Lowden, 467; Deneen, 387; Hamlin, 111; Warner, 34; Sherman, 49; Pierce, 22.

Thirty-fourth ballot: Yates, 431; Lowden, 466½; Deneen, 389½; Hamlin, 111; Warner, 32; Sherman, 50; Pierce, 22.

On the thirty-fifth ballot, Kane changed back from Lowden to Yates with 25 of its votes amid great enthusiasm among the Yates men. McHenry followed the break from Lowden and he lost five of his votes there. Will county also returned to Yates cheered lustily.

Thirty-fifth: Yates, 483; Lowden, 465½; Deneen, 391½; Hamlin, 109; Warner, 38; Sherman, 49; Pierce, 22.

U. S. SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS ST. LOUIS DAIRY ORDINANCE

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The United States Supreme Court in an opinion by Justice Brown today affirmed the opinion of the Missouri supreme court in the cases of John G. Fischer and Bernard Schefe against the city of St. Louis. The opinion upheld the constitutionality of the city ordinance prohibiting the establishment of cow or dairy stables in the city limits without official permission. Justices Harlan and Peckham dissented.

BAGGAGEMAN DELAYS WOMEN'S CONVENTION

Credentials, as Well as Dresses, Are in Trunks Marooned at Union Station, and Delegates Meet in Traveling Gowns Without Necessary Papers.

AT 2 O'CLOCK this afternoon Mrs. Dimies T. S. Denison of New York called to order the seventh biennial session of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs in the Odeon, and the greatest convention in the history of the Federation began.

The big hall was packed with hundreds of delegates, each busily trying to find her place with her state or independent organization, and most of them talking. There was the rustling of silks and the swish of satins as they crowded through the aisles at the tap of the president's gavel, and then their talk and the frou-frou of their garments was drowned in a burst of melody from an orchestra.

The orchestra continued to play while the delegates found their seats, and when order was restored Rev. Caroline Barlett Crane of Michigan invoked the divine blessing on the deliberations of the session.

Mayor Rolla Wells was next introduced, and received hearty applause from the audience. The clapping of hands continued for so long and was so diligently done that the Mayor seemed embarrassed for a moment, and rather nervously fingered some stray sheets of paper on the president's desk beside which he stood.

When the welcome had been sufficiently expressed, the Mayor eloquently extended to the visitors the freedom of the city and all that it contained, and assured them of a most hearty welcome.

Mrs Philip N. Moore, president of the Missouri State Federation of Woman's Clubs, was the next speaker, and extended a graceful welcome on behalf of the state organization.

There was more than ordinary interest in Mrs. Moore and her speech, for many of the state president's friends had spent a diligent morning urging her accomplishments and abilities upon the delegates and putting forward their claims that she should be elected as the next general president. The delegates welcomed her with more curiosity than enthusiasm, as they carefully studied her; but at the conclusion of her speech they gave her an even more cordial salvo of applause than they had given to Mayor Wells.

BUSINESS SOON REACHED.

Following Mrs. Moore, Mrs. W. E. Fischel, president of the Wednesday Club, extended a welcome on behalf of the St. Louis clubs. Mrs. Denison, for the general federation, responded.

This ended the formal beginning of the convention, and the women at once proceeded to business. Reports of committees will occupy them until 4 o'clock, when they will become the guests of the Wednesday club at a reception to be given in the club rooms at Central Y. M. C. A. building.

Tuesday morning was a busy preparation time for the delegates. Many of the ladies were greatly annoyed by the failure of their trunks to arrive, and this acted somewhat as a damper upon their enthusiasm in the discussion of club matters. But about 10 o'clock the missing trunks began to arrive at the hotels in great wagon loads, and there was an immediate and noticeable increase in vivacity and interest.

The big business of the morning, in so far as the greater number of the delegates was concerned, was in securing credentials as delegates. The advisory council of the general federation, composed of the president, the secretary and the treasurer of the larger body and presidents of state federations and independent clubs, had charge of the issuance of credentials, and began their work at 9:30 o'clock at the Odeon. They did not have a moment's

REFUSING SEAT, WOMAN CAUSES MAN'S ARREST

Recognizing Polite Stranger as Man Who Swindled Her a Few Days Before, Mrs. Newcomb Has Conductor Call Policeman.

"I DON'T WANT YOUR SEAT, I WANT YOU," SHE DECLARED

Caller at West End Home Represented Himself as Business Acquaintance of Head of Family, Who Was Asleep, and "Borrowed" a $10 Bill.

"I don't want your seat, I want you."

Such was the address of Mrs. George A. Newcomb of 5739 Clemens avenue to the man who politely arose when he saw her standing in a Suburban car Monday afternoon.

"Officer, arrest that man; he swindled me out of $10," continued Mrs. Newcomb, and Patrolman McCann took the stranger from the car, while other passengers stared in wonder at the most unusual occurrence.

This dramatic incident was the result of an experience which Mrs. Newcomb had at her home Sunday morning when, she alleges, she was persuaded through misrepresentation to loan the stranger $10. Her story of the affair follows:

BY MRS. GEORGE A. NEWCOMB.

SUNDAY morning at 10:30 a stranger called at my front door, saying that he was a regular customer of my husband, and that his wife had wired him of her sickness and he was anxious to catch a train at 1 o'clock in the afternoon for his home at Jackson, Miss., but did not have sufficient money on hand.

He wanted $10, and I loaned it to him, not caring to awaken my husband, who at the time was still in bed, not feeling well. He gave his name as A. Vardin, and said he was stopping at the Hotel Rozier.

Becoming suspicious, I determined to investigate the matter Monday, and went to the store, acting on the suggestion of Mr. Newcomb that the man's name might be on the company's books unknown to him. The bookkeeper quickly informed me that no such man as Vardin of Jackson, Miss., was a customer of the house, and at the Rozier hotel I learned that the name Vardin was not registered.

It was about 1:30 Monday afternoon then that I gave up the hunt and started home, taking the Suburban car at Seventh and Locust in front of my husband's store. Upon getting on, I noticed that in the third seat in front of me sat the very man who had defrauded me and for whom I was looking. He was seated with a tall, dark man. I moved back several seats in order that he might not see me, and instructed the conductor to call a policeman.

We had reached Union avenue before a policeman got on the car, and I promptly told him to arrest the man. To make sure, however, I walked up the aisle toward the front of the car, while the officer waited, and when I turned to come back and get a good look at the man under suspicion, he very politely arose and offered me his seat, the car being crowded.

Then I told him that I did not want his seat, but him, and called the officer.

The man protested that he was not Vardin, but I was positive. The tall dark man by his side whispered something to him and left the car.

Officer McCann took Vardin to the Mounted District station, where he confessed that he had been guilty of securing the $10 from me, but begged me for his family's sake to let him off.

At the Mounted District station the man gave the name of Smith. He was taken to the Four Courts.

The police have been looking for Vardin for two months. Several complaints have come to them of a swindler who was systematically borrowing money from wholesale merchants under false representations. He has been identified as the man who borrowed $15 from the Rothschild Hat Co. under the name of Lazard Kahl of Jackson, Miss., $16 from Wertheimer-Schwartz Shoe Co., under the name of B. Falk of Lafayette, Ind., and $25 from the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. in the name of H. Barrouah of Church Point, La.

Warrants were issued against Vardin charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses.

GENTLESUNSHINE TO RETURN

Forecaster Not Sure About Tonight's Weather, But Wednesday Will Be a Fine Day.

From all indications, the World's Fair and the people of St. Louis will have to put up with rain and mud and cold weather for the rest of today and possibly the greater part of tonight. There is hope, however, that tomorrow may be different, and more than one glimpse of the sun may be secured. The official forecast is:

"Unsettled weather tonight, followed by fair and warmer Wednesday. Light to fresh north and west winds."

The official forecaster says, confidentially, that there will be only "threatening" weather tonight. After midnight he expects it to clear up, and he thinks Wednesday will be fair enough to satisfy everybody.

There was frost in Colorado and along the northern tier of states this morning. It is warmer and raining in the South.

The Mississippi is still falling. The gauge this morning read 21.5 feet.

UNION TRACK SEEMS MADE FOR MUDLARKS

A Dozen Scratches Reduce the Starters—Only One Withdrawal from Handicap.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

UNION RACETRACK, May 17.—The weather man dished out some cold and dreary specimens of atmosphere at Union club Tuesday afternoon. It did not rain, but the clouds were ominous looking and there was no gleam of sunshine to lighten the gloomy prospect.

For the most part the track was covered with water, and seemed made to order for the mudlarks. In consequence of the disagreeable character of the weather, only about 3000 people were present.

The Post-Dispatch handicap was a great betting event, every horse in the race getting a smart play.

Herman Hoffman, one of the most prominent bookmakers of St. Louis, was present, having just arrived from California, where he spent the winter.

The scratches were: Second race, Lero; third race, Kenova; fourth race, Marco Polo, Jim Gore II and Grace Gumperts; fifth race, Maru, Bassanlo, Require and Cotton Plant; sixth race, Palm Reader, Lord Hermence and Lampadrome.

O'BRIEN SAYS THERE WAS NO FAKE IN FIGHT

Bout With McCoy Was Simply Not Rough Enough to Suit Quakers—Hopes for Longer Try at Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—Jack O'Brien laughs at those persons who intimate that his fight with "Kid" McCoy here Saturday night was a fake.

He furthermore announces that while McCoy is still a dangerous fighter, he can beat him in a long fight, and will insist on having the opportunity. In an interview he says:

"My fight with McCoy was not the bloody bull fight that the Philadelphia 'experts' expected. McCoy would not leave his corner or lead, thus expending no energy, and I tired myself racing him about the ring. I can beat him in a long contest and am after him or Ryan. A fight with McCoy would prove interesting from a scientific point of view, but not as a slugging match.

"The Philadelphia papers made disparaging statements about my contest which are without foundation. I will vindicate myself and prove all fake stories false. McCoy is not the back number that some people seem to believe, and I hope to prove myself decisively his master in a long contest. Charley Mitchell, who was in McCoy's corner, says that the bout was a good, clever contest, and that a draw would have been the decision. Bat Masterson has stated publicly that he was surprised that McCoy lasted the six rounds, and wonders how anyone could hint at a fake. The people who use that word in connection with that fight are mistaken. I hope to appear in St. Louis shortly against the winner of the Scanlon-Schreck fight."

Boutell Nominated Again

CHICAGO, May 16.—The Republicans of the Ninth congressional district last night nominated for the fifth time Henry S. Boutell for Congress.

Geo. J. Pepper, an attache of the United States Agricultural Department at Washington, D. C., is visiting Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Brown of 5978 Easton avenue. He will remain here several days.

"SOCIAL SECRETARY" IS THE NEWEST

She Is Girls' "Mother" in Large Establishments—One Watches Blondes Especially.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 17.—"Something of a new profession that will affect the lives of women all over the world" was told last night at the meeting of the American Institute of Social Science in the United Charities building.

The "new profession" is that of "social secretary," an officer of a firm and particularly of firms where girls are employed, whose business is to stand between the employers and employed, and in a way acting as arbitrator and investigator of grievances.

In the case of department stores, where many girls are employed, the "social secretary" is always to be a woman and the nature of her duties may be summed up in a question which Dr. Wm. H. Tolman, director of the institute asked in the course of his remarks:

"What would you think of a mother with 2000 children?"

A sympathetic shudder ran through the audience, largely made up of women.

"Imagine 50,000 women workers," Dr. Tolman went on, "mothered by social secretaries seeking to make their life work easier. Think of their task guarding these 50,000 young girls from temptation. 'I always watch the blondes,' a social secretary said recently, 'particularly the blondes, for they always remind me of the moth and the flame.'"

Mrs. Isabelle F. Nye, a social secretary in a department store in New York and Mrs. Elizabeth C. Wheeler, with a similar position in Providence, told of their experiences. They supervise the girls in all their relations, advise them as to their home lives and their love affairs and criticize their dress and general behavior.

FIGHTING LINE NEARING MUKDEN

Energetic Japanese Are Pressing the Russian Viceroy's Northern Headquarters Closely.

MUKDEN, Monday, May 16.—The fighting line is steadily nearing Mukden, where Viceroy Alexieff's headquarters still remain. Little reliable information can be obtained by the newspaper correspondents, who are forbidden to proceed to the scene of operations, and official information is withheld until advices are sent to St. Petersburg.

It is now known, however, that the Japanese are almost within striking distance of the Russians, and that the forces protecting Liao Yang are stretching eastward, from the railroad along the Mao Tien mountain range.

The Japanese are advancing in three columns and are now north of Siu-yen and Feng-wang-cheng. Two columns are reported to be working further to the northward with the object of turning the Russian position and advancing upon Mukden.

Numerous small engagements have been fought, but no decisive action has taken place. Port Arthur is now completely isolated by the Japanese expedition at Polandien.

The Japanese are operating in a rugged country, well suited to the Russian defense, but north of Liao Yang to Mukden the country is a flat plain, intersected by rivers. The weather recently has been hot and dry, but the rain which has fallen in the past two days has made the roads almost impassable for vehicles, and when the rainy season begins, at the end of June, this plain will be converted into a morass. This condition will probably result in the practical suspension of operations.

Mukden is now the receiving center for the wounded from the various engagements south of the Mao Tien mountains. A hospital has been established in the Lama temple, in the outskirts of the town, and a field hospital has been located in a wood near the military camp around the station.

A significant feature of the situation is the demeanor of the Chinese population, which may be said to be a barometer of the military weather. A close observer of the expressions and general attitude of the Chinese can tell how the fighting a hundred miles away is turning. They have rapid and mysterious channels of information through which the result of the battle of Feng-wang-cheng spread and could be suspected from the outward manner of the Chinese before the Russians made it known here. The cutting off of Port Arthur is another instance in point.

Gen. Kuropatkin is evidently unwilling that the foreign correspondents shall witness the present phase of operations, though he may accept them in the indefinite future, when the Russians are able to make a sweeping advance.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DELMAR RACETRACK, May 17.—Threatening weather had little effect on the attendance at Delmar today.

The usual throng of regulars made things lively in the betting ring.

The track was much better than most people anticipated. Although very sloppy, it had a firm bottom.

The scratches were: Yellmantown, I Must, Circular Joe and Patricius in the third; Orient, Dr. Stephens and Footlight Favorite in the fourth; Gay American and Fatalist in the fifth; Nettie Regent, Getchell and Edgardo in the sixth.

BELIEF THAT HEARST HAS QUIT THE RACE

Apathy of Chicago Leaders Since Indiana Defeat Is Regarded as Significant.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 17.—There is a firm belief, not only in the city hall, but among some of the Hearst supporters, that W. R. Hearst has given up the fight for the presidency and is abandoning the situation in Illinois to the Harrison men.

While the local Hearst managers deny this, the feeling around the headquarters is anything but hopeful, for a man who claims to have elected a majority of the Cook County delegates to the state convention.

So far as can be learned, the Hearst managers have been doing little for several days to offset the work of the Harrison forces to get control of enough delegates to dominate the state convention. The Harrison men are working like beavers in this direction, and it is known that they have made great inroads upon the Hearst lines.

Since Hearst lost the Indiana delegation, his Illinois managers have lost hope, and this feeling is said to have extended to the candidate himself. There is no activity around the Hearst headquarters and the headquarters of the Union Labor Hearst League, at 165 Washington street have been closed.

BAD DREAMS

Indicate Improper Diet, Usually Due to Coffee.

One of the common symptoms of coffee poisoning is the bad dreams that spoil what should be restful sleep. A man who found the reason says:

"Formerly I was a slave to coffee. I was like a morphine fiend, could not sleep at night, would roll and toss in my bed, and when I did get to sleep was disturbed by dreams and hobgoblins; would wake up with headaches and feel bad all day, so nervous I could not attend to business. My writing looked like bird tracks, I had sour belchings from the stomach, indigestion, heartburn and palpitation of the heart, constipation, irregularity of the kidneys, etc.

"Indeed, I began to feel I had all the troubles that human flesh could suffer, but when a friend advised me to leave off coffee I felt as if he had insulted me. I could not bear the idea, it had such a hold on me, and I refused to believe it the cause.

"But it turned out that no advice was ever given at a more needed time, for I finally consented to try Postum, and with the going of coffee and the coming of Postum all my troubles have gone and health has returned. I eat and sleep well now, nerves steadied down, and I write a fair hand (as you can see), can attend to business again, and rejoice that I am free from the monster Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ten days' trial of Postum in place of coffee will bring sound, restful, refreshing sleep. There's a reason.

WOMEN'S CONVENTION NOW IN SESSION

rest from the time that they took their seats until a few minutes before the convention was called to order. The delegates crowded upon them, each eager to pass through the formality as quickly as possible; but with all the haste that could be made, the number was so great that many of the delegates were forced to stand in line for an hour before they could present their credentials and be properly enrolled.

Baggageman Cause of Woe.

Complications arose here on account of the delay in the arrival of trunks, and they were rather more serious than were those occasioned by the inability of the fair delegates to get at handsome and highly-valued convention gowns. Many of the ladies had carefully locked their credentials in their trunks, and when the trunks were delayed the credentials were not to be had.

Miss Sproule of Massachusetts was one of the delegates thus inconvenienced, and with others in the same situation she was driven almost to distraction in her fear that her credentials would not be available for presentation in time to enable her to take part in the first day's proceedings.

While the advisory council was at work on the credentials, local committees were busy receiving new arrivals and directing them to boarding places, committee rooms, and wherever else they might happen to want to go. There was disappointment at the failure of some directing committee to report at the Jefferson Hotel. There were six ladies appointed on this committee, but only two of them, Mrs. John Ockerson and Mrs. Edward Taussig, were present for duty; and these two had rather more work than they could comfortably attend to.

The Union Station reception committee was more prompt. A dozen ladies were on this committee, and none of them was reported tardy.

At 11 o'clock themost important of the preliminary work of the convention was begun. This was when the council took up the consideration of the proposed amendment to the constitution in regard to the election of president. Heretofore it has been the custom to have a nominating committee present the names to be voted upon.

It is proposed to change this system, and in future to present the names before the convention. Then a nominating ballot will be taken, and all but the two candidates who receive the highest vote shall be withdrawn. The delegates will then choose by ballot the one of the two candidates whom the greater number of them desire.

DIRECT BALLOT DESIRED.

There seems to be a general sentiment in favor of the amendment, but there is much division of sentiment and opinion as to whether the change should or could be made to affect the election for president at this meeting.

The presidential question is decidedly the paramount issue among the delegates. It is discussed to almost the total exclusion of other subjects, and there is as much feeling and interest shown as in a national political convention.

It would be hard to forecast the result of the election, which will be held next Wednesday, the last day of the session. The matter would be easy if Mrs. Denison, the present president, would consent to stand for re-election. But she has declared positively that she cannot accept, and her statement has been accepted as final.

The only seeming certainty is that a Western woman will be chosen, and it is almost certain that she will be far enough west as to leave no doubt as to her geographical qualification. Mrs. Philip N. Moore; Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, the present vice-president; Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker and Mrs. George H. Noyes are the ones most prominently mentioned today. Mrs. Moore's friends admit that her supporters are at present confined chiefly to St. Louis and Missouri, but they say her popularity will spread to all sections as soon as the convention becomes acquainted with her and her work.

Mrs. Platt Decker's friends are seemingly the most confident. Mrs. Platt Decker is from Colorado, and there is no doubt of the sentiment of the Colorado contingent. It is believed, also, that New York is for her, and that many of the states of the middle West are positively pledged to her.

MRS. BURDETTE STRONG.

The next candidate, in point of seeming present popularity, is Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of Pasadena, Cal., wife of the well-known humorous writer and lecturer. It is stated that Mr. Burdette is the only man in the United States who is in the smallest degree figuring in the politics of the seventh biennial; but it is admitted that there is magic in his name.

The delegates say they love his wife, both for herself and her husband, and, although Mrs. Burdette has said she does not want the office and would not accept it, scores of convention politicians were almost willing to wager a box of gloves Tuesday morning that her name would be one of those submitted to the convention at election time. Such pressure has been brought to bear upon Mrs. Burdette that she is known to be seriously considering the advisability of withdrawing her first refusal to become a candidate, and it is expected that at the last moment she will agree to the use of her name. California's delegation is said to be solid for her, and it was said Tuesday that the Chicago delegation and probably the entire Illinois delegation was equally friendly.

Mrs. Noyes lives in Milwaukee, and if she would be less positive in her declaration that she cannot accept the office, there is no doubt that she would be a strong candidate. New York is said to be inclined toward her if she will let them vote for her, and would go to Mrs. Platt Decker only if assured that Mrs. Noyes would not be a candidate.

The only eastern woman whose name is mentioned in connection with the presidency is Mrs. May Alden Ward of Massachusetts, a descendant of the original John and Priscilla Alden, and a lecturer of national note and much popularity. The movement in favor of Mrs. Ward is based largely upon her successful effort to keep the Massachusetts federation within the general federation. When the question of the admission of colored club women to the federation was brought up, Massachusetts was strong in support of the proposition.

Its defeat was angrily denounced by the Bay State delegates, and for a long while it was considered certain that Massachusetts would withdraw from the general federation. Mrs. Ward, president of the state federation, was one of those who opposed secession, and her friends say she proved herself possessed of wonderful diplomatic ability, and in every way capable of being an excellent president of the general federation. It is understood, however, that Mrs. Ward does not desire the presidency.

HOUSEWORK DISCUSSED.

Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, the literature committee will have charge of the meeting. Mrs. Burdette, chairman of this committee, will make her report, and Edward Howard Griggs of New Jersey will read a paper on "The Expression and Interpretation of Human Life in Literature."

One of the most interesting of the meetings to be held during the session will be that of Wednesday afternoon, when household economics will claim the attention of the delegates. Mrs. Arthur Courtney Neville of Wisconsin is chairman of the committee which has this work.

"There is not a doubt," said Mrs. Neville, in discussing this work, "that bad servants and bad cooking are largely responsible for the prevalence of divorce. Our aim is to interest women in their own homes and the work of them. We believe that with good cooking the home will be happier, and divorces will be fewer."

In a room at the Jefferson Hotel is a magnificent display of photographs showing the work that has been accomplished by this section of the federation.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE WOMEN'S CONVENTION

—By ROSE MARION.

FAIRIES fly about the lobby of the Jefferson Hotel. Believe it? Here's proof.

Near the elevator I sat wishing. Before me I saw a happy-faced woman wearing a Colorado badge upon which were some mountain flowers. I smiled at the flowers. The happy-faced, blue-eyed woman smiled at me and I told her my wish.

"If I could only see your Mrs. Platt Decker!"

"Look," said she, and my wish had come true.

The most-talked-of woman in clubdom was there and she and I were friends all because of the fairies and the flowers.

"You'll be president, won't you?" I asked.

"I don't want to be," said she, because I think I'm not capable of the position." Up came Mrs. E. L. Buchwalter of Ohio, member of the board of lady managers and prominent club woman.

"Here's the reason that brought me to St. Louis," said Mrs. Platt Decker. "Not your great Fair, not even the biennial, but just to see this little woman." She patted Mrs. Buchwalter's arm as she spoke, and we who know Mrs. Buchwalter agreed that Mrs. Platt Decker's trip was worth while.

"I'm a pioneer," declared Miss Joan Minor Kennedy, treasurer of the Ohio Federation, Tuesday morning.

"That's as far as St. Louis is concerned. I was here 30 years ago."

Then she looked round at the St. Louis women present.

"Wonder how many of you were around then?"

Nobody owned up.

"IS ST. LOUIS in the north or south?" was the subject argued by Massachusetts women and Miss Bacon of Georgia Wednesday morning.

"If it's southern, we'll get some good cornbread," said Mrs. Bacon, who will speak upon education Wednesday.

But the only cornbread was muffins made with sugar, and Mrs. Bacon named St. Louis north.

ST. LOUIS women are poky when it comes to morning hours. They're great when it comes to gadding at night, but a. m. is not for them. Mrs. John Ockerson is the exception that proves the rule and smiling and happy she served as "general director" at the Jefferson all Tuesday morning. Carefully she marshaled the visitors and packed them off to the Odeon for their credentials. She found those lost from their parties and she straightened out twisted difficulties. She shook aside compliments, saying, "The only way to do anything is to do it."

WOMEN own the Jefferson Hotel lobby. Men, looking beautifully bashful and shuddering with shyness, sneak around looking for short ways out of the crowd. The long green settees are occupied by women who wear badges and talk about the "best interests of the federation." Names that fall from the bellboys' lips have "Miss" or "Mrs." before them and nothing seems to be left for the men, not even the long distance 'phones. None of them have $-cents worth of show except those who have been brought by their wives. Their privileges seem to be altogether in the waiting line.

JAPS MOVE TO CUT OFF CZAR'S ARMY

Russian General Staff Reports the Enemy in Considerable Force in Northwest Manchuria, Marching Rapidly to Get Behind Kuropatkin.

TO HOLD HIM WHILE THE MAIN FORCE CRUSHES HIM

Anticipating This Design, Russians Are Running, Having Evacuated New-Chwang on Learning of Landing of 20,000 Men Near There.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 17.—It is announced by the general staff that Japanese in large bodies have appeared in the northwest direction of Manchuria.

It is the belief of the general staff that this indicates a bold movement to cut off Kuropatkin's whole army from its northern base, while the main Japanese force is hurled against Liao-Yang and Mukden.

This has caused some alarm, but the general staff is trying to calm it by assuring the public that the Japanese haven't sufficient men to carry out such a coup.

The reason given for such a bold stroke is that the Japanese do not intend to allow Kuropatkin to retire to his base and await reinforcements.

There is no intimation as to where this army comes from, but it may be the missing third corps that was sent from Japan many weeks ago and hasn't been heard from since. The reported landing of Japanese near Possiet Bay, just south of Vladivostock a long time ago has never been accounted for.

RUSSIANS IN FULL RETREAT BEFORE THE ADVANCING JAPANESE

NEW-CHWANG, May 16.—The Russian army, from this city north, is in full retreat before the advancing enemy.

The last Russian soldiers fled from this city tonight on learning of the landing of Japanese troops at Kai-Chau, near Yin-Kow, this morning.

While the spies of the Russian forces were watching for the Yalu army, nine Japanese transports suddenly appeared off shore. It is estimated they carried 20,000 men. The convoy of warships shelled the shore, driving the Russians from their position, and then the transports proceeded leisurely to land troops. It is presumed this army will offset a speedy junction with urokhi's Yalu divinsion and the force thus formed will be able to advance against all parts of the Russian line simultaneously.

RUSSIANS IN A PANIC.

This strategic move created a panicky feeling, and the evacuation of this city, under way for several days, was ordered completed instantly. The gunboat, Sirouch, which with some abandoned Russian guns is the only evidence of occupation by the army, will be blown up in the morning by engineers left here for that purpose.

The Russian troops marched out in perfect order, Gen. Kondratovitch leaving with the last regiment.

The Associated Press correspondent has received exclusive information from the highest Russian authority that the Japanese advance will be resisted at Hai-Cheng, whence the Russian forces will fall back upon Liao Yang, where they will make a determined stand, with a fighting strength there available of 70,000 men.

PLAN TO FLEE TO MUKDEN.

If defeated, no stop will be made at Mukden, but the retirement will be continued to Thieling, a town at the head of navigation for native craft on the Liao river, 200 miles north of New-Chwang.

At the same time, the Cossack regiments will be employed in the rear of the Japanese army of the Yalu, harassing the troops and interfering with its communications. It is not believed that the Japanese will move into the interior until they have thoroughly established their base here, repeating their movement in their war with China.

The Russians admit the advance of the Japanese army to a point within 15 miles of Hai Cheng, many of their wounded entering there.

The nearest fighting expected before the Japanese reach New-Chwang will be at Tashiichao, but it will not amount to much.

This city is now guarded by 300 Chinese police, and everything is quiet.

RUSSIA'S TREMENDOUS LOSS.

The Russian flag has thus been swept from all ports of Southern Manchuria, except Port Arthur, now besieged, and likely to fall in a few days.

The Japanese are in overwhelming force between Kuropatkin's army and the doomed city. Kuropatkin will have enough to do to escape battle and overwhelming defeat without trying to aid the beleaguered place. The Russians' only hope for Port Arthur is that it may hold out a year—a feat which every expert here regards as absolutely impossible. The Japanese undoubtedly expect to be in possession by June 1.

LONE BANDIT ROBS CAR OF EDITORS

At Point of Pistol He Compels Party En Route to St. Louis to Give Up Valuables.

One of the most daring railroad robberies known in the West took place Monday afternoon in the famous Blue Cut, near Independence, Mo., the scene of many similar crimes by the James boys and their followers in the art of train robbery.

An eastbound Missouri Pacific train, in which was a special car bearing the editors of the Northwest Missouri Press Association on their way to the international press convention at St. Louis, was robbed by a lone bandit in the most artistic manner.

The train had just entered Blue Cut when a masked man carrying a revolver entered the special editorial car. At the command, "Hands up," the men obeyed and the women screamed. The bandit carried a sack and went through the car, at every seat commanding the passengers to drop their watches and money into it. Not even the women were excepted, and their purses went in with the loot. Some of them afterwards said that they experienced the greatest thrill of their lives when they looked into the muzzle of the train robber's pistol.

After the robber had cleaned the editors out he disappeared through the rear door of the car.

At the next station the editors wired home for more money, and sent a message to Walter Williams of the World's Fair to meet them at the station with car fare. All the way to St. Louis they discussed the exciting adventures and told one another what they would have done to that bandit if the ladies had not been present, and boasted of the size of the wad of bills they had dropped into the sack and the value of their lost watches. The ladies declared that the train robber looked so romantic, only he was real mean to take their diamonds, which their husbands had given them last Christmas.

Just before the train pulled into St. Louis Capt. W. E. Williams of the St. Joseph Gazete, whose absence had been noted during the "hold-up," and who was thought to have hidden, entered the car with a sack and returned to each editor the watch and money the train robber had taken.

He was the lone bandit, the "Black Bart of the Blue Cut," and his pistol had been empty. He told afterward that while going through the car he had several thrilling thoughts of what might happen if one of the editors had a revolver and the nerve to use it.

DELIGHTED WITH THE FAIR

Press Parliament President Discusses Libel Laws Which Will Come Up Before Meeting.

Sir Hugh Gilzean-Reid, president of the World's Press Parliament, which convenes at the World's Fair Thursday, and his daughter, Miss Octable Turquet Gilzean-Reid, who arrived in St. Louis yesterday, have apartments at the Hotel Hamilton. This is their first visit to America from their home at Dollis Hill House, London, Northwest.

Sir Hugh spent Monday afternoon viewing the World's Fair, and is delighted with what he saw there, even if he did see it through the rain. To the Post-Dispatch Sir Hugh said:

"I am thoroughly delighted with the Fair, not only by its magnitude but even more by the artistic excellence of the buildings. I was most agreeably surprised that it is so near completion." Speaking of the Press Parliament, he continued:

"One of the most important matters to come before the Press Parliament is the agitation for libel laws which will protect the publishers from the many libel suits brought over insignificant matters. In England we have much trouble with a class of solicitors who scan the newspapers each day searching for some small error on which they may procure a client and bring a libel suit. I was actually sued once because a man's name was spelled in the paper 'Smythe' instead of 'Smith.' This is relieved to a great extent, however, by the enforcement of a law compelling a plaintiff to give security for costs in a libel suit."

Changing his conversation to the Russo-Japanese war, Sir Hugh confirmed the published reports that King Edward is seeking to end hostilities.

"King Edward is for peace. He did not like to see the war between Russia and Japan begin, and wishes to see it brought to an end as soon as possible. When the new British ambassador went to St. Petersburg, he carried a message from the King to the Czar suggesting that peace be brought about. This was the first suggestion of peace made. This message from the King has greatly increased his popularity with the masses in England. England at large sympathizes with Japan."

Miss Gilzean-Reid is enjoying greatly her first visit to America, though the climate is different from that of England. When she reached New York she found the weather warmer than she had ever known it in her London home. She also commented especially upon the large and beautiful trees she has seen in St. Louis.

Sir Hugh and his daughter will remain in St. Louis two weeks, visiting the Fair. He will preside at the session of the World's Press Parliament. Before their return to England they will visit relatives in Canada for a short time.

DR. BROWN'S CONDITION WORSE

Right Hand Is Badly Affected as Result of Blood Poisoning.

Dr. John Young Brown, superintendent of the City Hospital, who suffered blood poisoning in an operation for appendicitis performed by him two weeks ago, does not show the improvement which his friends had hoped. He suffered intense pain Monday night, and Tuesday morning was unable to leave his bed. It was announced Tuesday that there was no immediate danger of serious results.

Dr. Brown was first affected in the index finger of his right hand. The infection has spread to his hand and that member is badly swollen.

BARBER'S CASE CONTINUED.

Judge Tracy Determined to Try Extortion Cases.

"It is due the city of St. Louis that these cases against barbers who make overcharges should be tried," announced Judge Tracy in City Hall Police Court Tuesday morning in declining to dismiss the charges against William M. Bradshaw and his porter, Oscar Baldwin, of Nineteenth and Market streets, though the prosecuting witness, Jacob Messite of New York, failed to appear.

Judge Tracy said he would continue the case till everything else on the docket was disposed of in order that the complaining witness might yet get a chance to appear in court.

Messite complained to the police that he had paid $1.05 for a shave, and had been handled roughly in the bargain for demurring to pay. He had shown the barber his card reading: "You can fool some of the people all the time," etc. The barber claims that Messite got a shave, shampoo, massage and shine.

MEN FOUGHT OVER THE WAR.

Enthusiastic Champions of Russia and Japan Fined.

Thomas McClusky held up for the Russians and John Jetter declared the Japs ought to win the war. For a full half hour Monday night at the corner of Twentieth and Market streets Port Arthur was blockaded. Russian battleships were torpedoed the Yalu was crossed and recrossed, and finally Dalny was blown up, all in a wordy battle.

The crisis was reached at the nineteenth consecutive capture of Port Arthur, when actual warfare was precipitated. McClusky deployed his fistic forces in a threatening manner, but Jetter rammed home and the first battleship had scarcely gone down when a Market street policeman hove in sight urging a peace conference at Four Courts.

His suggestions were well taken, and in the City Hall police court Tuesday morning Judge Tracy acted as mediator and assessed the city's reprisal at $5 each against the belligerents.

M'GRATH LOOKS ASKANCE.

Ex-Secretary Figures Cook With Only 120 Delegates.

In summing up the strength of the Democratic candidates for secretary of state, former state secretary and political statistician, Michael K. McGrath, figures that Sam B. Cook has only 120 delegates out of 533 elected, who are pledged to vote for him, W. H. Muskgrave of Ash Grove about 15 and R. L. Mitchell of Nevada 35.

Mr. Cook claims 146 delegates and expects to get 111 votes out of St. Louis. There are still 153 delegates to be elected. In his estimate, Cook includes Jasper and Clinton counties where there are contests. It is probable the Folk delegations in the last mentioned counties will be seated, so that Cook will have to guess again, as to how their vote will go.

It seems the great majority of the Folk supporters are opposed to the renomination of Cook. Allen, but up to the present time haven't screwed up enough courage to out openly and say so.

INDIAN PROBLEM IS MERELY HUMAN PROBLEM TO EXPERT

After wrestling with the Indian problem for a long time Dr. S. M. McCowan, superintendent of the government Indian exhibit at the World's Fair and superintendent of the Chilocco Indian school in Oklahoma, has come to the conclusion that the Indian problem is simply the human problem.

"A great many people, famous and otherwise," he says, "have attempted to settle the Indian problem. Many are still engaged in the task. Everyone knows just how it should be settled, and those who know least about Indian nature know best how to develop and civilize it. I have settled the Indian question several times myself—done it beautifully, too; had it all worked out—on paper—down to a scientific nicety, and knew positively that there could be no failure. But there was. Practical tests proved something wrong. And now, after 15 years of work with him, I have decided that there is no Indian problem at all, but just a bundle of human problems. That's all.

"There are just as many problems as there are Indians, for no two of them are alike, just as no two white persons are alike. If anyone thinks differently just let him keep on working and worrying, but as for me, I am done with settling Indian problems forever. Indian boys and girls are just boys and girls; that's all. Just boys and girls of different color and of like passions, emotions and desires.

When catalogued thus the problems are greatly simplified. We can see our way clear to analysis, see it so clearly that we are apt to exclaim: 'Oh, the solution is easy now.' But it is not. The human problem is not a whit easier of solution than the Indian problem, and no one has ever solved that problem for another since time was young and never will. We understand and can apply the general rules. We can help by precept and example. But every boy and every girl, of any color, must work out patiently, laboriously, his own problem. He must descend into his den of lions alone. And if he pleases God he will come out a man. If not he will be a rascal."

Repairs for the Missouri.

NEW PORT NEWS, Va., May 17.—The battleship Missouri went into drydock today to undergo repairs of injuries received during the ship's collision with the battleship Illinois.

PRESIDENT POLK'S NIECE SAYS: "PE-RU-NA IS WOMAN'S FRIEND."

Minnie Lee Collins, of Tennessee, says Peruna cured her of female trouble after the best physicians had failed.

Mrs. Minnie Lee Collins, grandniece of the late President James K. Polk, writes from 912 High street, Nashville, Tenn.:

"For several years I experienced an attack of female trouble. The best physicians prescribed for me, but without avail. Two years ago I began to take Peruna at the advice of a friend. I noticed a perceptible improvement at once; after taking several bottles I was cured. I hold Peruna in high esteem and am always ready to say a good word for it."—MINNIE LEE COLLINS.

This is the same old story told by a thousand women in a thousand different ways. Female trouble; doctors fail to cure; Peruna, as a last resort, a happy relief from a dreary servitude to aches, pains and a complication of physical anguish that can never be described.

These women all tell the same story. Pains all gone. Dragging sensations gone. Quivers and throbbings and tremblings and dizziness and nausea and the irregularities and painful periods—all gone. In their place has come vigor and vivacity, health and hope, peace and patience, grace and gratitude.

Peruna is a wonder-worker in female diseases and yet the explanation of it is simple. Catarrh is the cause of these troubles. Peruna cures the catarrh. The cause being removed, the symptoms disappear.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

STATE SILENT ON STONE CANDIDACY

County Conventions Have not Indorsed His Aspiration to Be Delegate-at-Large.

REED HAS LOST INTEREST

Though He and Hawes Worked for Senator, They Got No Return But Advice.

"Pike County is against Senator Stone for delegate-at-large," declared E. E. Campbell, editor of the Louisiana Times, at the Laclede Hotel Tuesday.

"In fact I might say, we are opposed to anybody who is tainted with the recent disgraceful disclosures in Missouri," continued Senator Campbell.

"Why Senator Stone should ask further favors of his party is more than I can understand. They say he wishes to be delegate-at-large, chairman of the Cockrell delegation and is desirous of succeeding himself at national committeeman.

"Congressman Champ Clark will be one of the delegates-at-large. I am sure the others whom the convention will select will be good, clean men."

It is regarded as significant that Senator Stone, who is trying to induce Missouri congressmen to make the race for district delegates to the national Democratic convention, so that he may appropriately become a delegate-at-large, has received an indorsement in almost none of the 80 counties which have held conventions.

Gov. Dockery's record has been cordially indorsed again and again; Secretary of State Cook and Albert O. Allen have been commended, and down in his own county of Crawford State Senator Frank H. Farris has received the encomiums of the party organization. But there is no word of cheer for Stone, although he is due to arrive within a few days to help save the Missouri Democracy.

One of the strongest of his supporters stated to the Post-Dispatch that ex-Mayor James A. Reed of Kansas City would not lose any sleep trying to help Stone out of the political rut in which he finds himself.

Planned Fight Against Folk.

"Mr. Reed thought Stone was his friend," said a politician Tuesday. "Harry Hawes thought likewise.

"One day last winter Stone had the two men meet at his office. Hawes had just held held a conference with his friends, and was undecided as to whether he should enter the gubernatorial race. Stone promptly advised Hawes to announce himself a candidate. At the same time he cautioned Reed to make a thorough canvass of the western part of the state, and said he was confident, with the help Hawes could muster, Circuit Attorney Folk would be defeated. Of course Hawes and Reed, who had great confidence in the senator, notwithstanding they knew his entire history, went before the people as candidates.

"Not 48 hours had elapsed when Stone hurried to Washington. Congress had met and he must needs be there. Great questions of state were pending, notably the great Isthmian canal question, and of course, he could not miss voting and making a speech on that.

"So he left and he never came back—at least never to say or do a thing for Reed and Hawes.

"That was gratitude for you after Jim Reed and Harry Hawes went to Jefferson City two years ago and prevented the legislators from literally bolting their instructions and voting against Stone.

"Reed got the Kansas City delegation, which was pledged to Wallace, to vote for Stone, and Hawes lined up the St. Louis crowd solidly. And what do they get in return from the gum-shoe statesman? Nothing.

"Reed would be good timber for delegate-at-large. He put up a good stiff fight, but there was nobody with him.

Dockery Can Go Without Stone.

"Both the machine and the anti-machine fellows were with the opposition."

It is now generally believed that the four delegates-at-large to the national convention will be Gov. A. M. Dockery, Congressmen W. D. Vandiver, Champ Clark and David A. DeArmond. It is possible the name of Attorney Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City will be substituted for Congressman Vandiver if the latter decides not to run. Mr. Vandiver has devoted almost his entire time to the Folk interests, and the boodle prosecutor's friends feel his services should be recognized.

Politicians will watch with interest the attitude of Gov. Dockery in the forthcoming contest to select delegates-at-large. If the governor uses his machine to embarrass the Folk crowd he is almost sure to be defeated, so the politicians believe.

Or, if he plays into the hands of Senator Stone, as it is now suspected he will, it would not surprise anybody if both he and Stone were left out in the cold.

The anti-machine Democrats are opposed to sending these two as delegates-at-large to the convention, so that should Stone go, Dockery will stay at home, and vice versa.

OREGON FORESTRY EXHIBIT IS TRULY A CONIC SECTION

Decorative possibilities in pine cones are revealed in the Oregon exhibit in the Forestry, Fish and Game building at the World's Fair. Eighteen hundred of them are used as booth decorations, and the effect is so fine that few pass without stopping to admire them and marvel at their size. For no ordinary cones are the cones which come from Oregon. Most of them are a foot long, and many of them are longer than that.

They form an exhibit which convinces spectators that there is nothing small about the forest trees of Oregon, because nobody needs to be told that such cones are the product of extraordinarily lusty sprouts.

Most of them are the cones of the sugar pine. Besides the 1800 which have been used in the decorations, 3000 of the big cones are to be given away as souvenirs.

Pictures of some of the huge trees from which the cones were obtained are shown.

Ninety species of Oregon woods are shown in the form of polished slabs. Forty kinds of clear Oregon lumber is used in boarding up the back of the booth.

A thousand species of plants, trees, shrubs and wild flowers gathered by Edmund P. Sheldon, who is in charge of the exhibit, are to be shown.

DOCKERY AND SEIBERT CALLED BY GRANDJURY

State Executive Subpenaed in Connection With Crusade Against Dance Halls and Winerooms Recently Commenced in St. Louis.

EXCISE COMMISSIONER'S ORDERS HAVE BEEN IGNORED

Action of Inquisatorial Body Makes it Plain That Vice Being Fought by Ministers and Police Board Will be Deeply Probed.

Subpenas were issued Tuesday morning by the April grandjury for Gov. A. M. Dockery and Excise Commissioner Seibert.

It is presimed that the subpenas are issued in connection with the recent campaign against winerooms and dance halls which has been conducted by a number of ministers. At the time of the raid of Michael O'Donnell's place on Olive street two weeks ago, one member of the minister's association stated that if Excise Commissioner Seibert failed to bring action against proprietors of places reported to be violating the law, the matter would be laid before Gov. Dockery.

Since that time notices issued by Excise Commissioner Seibert to a number of saloonkeepers to appear and show cause why their licenses should not be forfeited, were issued.

Witnesses known to possess information relative to the places against which the St. Louis ministers have been fighting have appeared before the April grandjury recently and it is supposed that body has decided to ask what state officials know about local conditions.

At the time of the O'Donnell raid, Chief Kiely said he and the Board of Police Commissioners stood back of the police lieutenant who gave instructions that violations of the saloon laws must be promptly dealt with. The police commissioners are appointed by the governor.

Eight women captured in the raid on the resort which O'Donnell is said to own were held to testify before the present grandjury.

That body has evidently decided to probe the matter deeply, and the two subpenas issued Tuesday morning are the presumable result of this decision.

EXPLORER'S BODY RECOVERED

Dog Teams Employed to Bring Hubbard's Coffin to Open Water Port.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., May 17.—After a journey of 475 miles over the frozen ground and snow, the party sent to recover the body of Explorer Leonidas Hubbard have reached Wellsville, north of here. The last stage of the journey was made by boat.

The party was equipped with several dog teams and by this means the coffin was brought over the long stretch of country from where the intrepid adventurer met death from starvation to the nearest open port.

Hubbard was leader of the Outing Magazine expedition to reach Labador, and with his two comrades, Dillon Wallace of New York and George Elson of Winnipeg, the latter a Creek guide, were confident of making an unequaled record in exploring that country. The took too little food, and Hubbard starved to death before they could retrace their steps. They started inland from a Hudson Bay post on Northwest river in July.

They killed a few deer and some birds, but gradually weakened, and, after being in this condition two months, Hubbard died on Oct. 18. The others barely escaped a similar fate, being rescued by some trappers, whose camp Elson reached in time to tell them where he had left Wallace in a condition of collapse. They hurried to Wallace's aid and saved him, but Hubbard was dead.

"STAND-PATTERS" IN MAJORITY

They Will Write Iowa Platform as They Wish.

DES MOINES, Io., May 17.—With Secretary L. M. Shaw of the president's cabinet, Senators Allison and Dolliver and every member of the lower house in congress in the city to attend the state Republican convention which meets tomorrow, the indications point to one of the largest attended affairs of its kind in the history of the state. The convention has 1932 delegates. Over 1000 are conceded to be with the "stand-patters," and the only discussion before the delegates at the present time is the wording of the resolution upon the tariff question. It is conceded that the plank will be worded just as the "stand-patters" desire.

HE SAYS COOK WILL GET IT.

Col. Knott Also Believes Stone Will Be a Delegate.

Col. John A. Knott of Hannibal, member of the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners and one of the shining lights of the Missouri Democratic machine, declared at the Southern Hotel Tuesday that Secretary of State Cook and Auditor Albert O. Allen would easily be renominated.

"It would not surprise me," continued Col. Knott, "if Cook got the nomination this time by acclamation. The Folk people need him and they know it, too. Cook is all right. So is Allen. It is all rot to talk about defeating them."

"How about the delegates-at-large?" the colonel was asked.

"I cannot say as to the personel of the national delegation, except that Stone and Dockery will both win hands down."

FILIPINO STUDENTS COMING TO LEARN AMERICAN WAYS

A hundred Filipino students are coming to the World's Fair to learn things. They will spend a month on the Philippine reservation. Their expenses are to be borne by the insular government.

The students are now at California institutions as wards of the insular government. They have been sent to this country to be educated, on the strength of an agreement that they will work three years in the civil service on their return to the islands.

E. A. Fieder, the executive commissioner of the Philippine Exposition, is finding some difficulty in providing quarters for the students. Arrangements may be made for them to stop at the inside Inn or tents may be erected for them.

FONTANA TELLS "DAVE" TO HURRY

Former Speaker of House Indignant at Having to Wait on Foreign Dignitaries.

Former Speaker John R. Fontana of the House of Delegates called on President Francis at the Administration building at World's Fair.

When he arrived he handed his card to a messenger and bade him take it to the president.

"And tell him I'm in a hurry, see!" said the former speaker, as the messenger departed.

Ten minutes went by and he received no summons to enter. A half hour departed and the former speaker began to grow impatient. He said that his visit was to talk to the president about additional passes for members of the House of Delegates.

"Of course, we've all got passes for ourselves," he explained, "but we can't come out here by ourselves, can we?"

An hour went by and the statesman still waited. But so did others, a few state commissioners, a department chief or two, a big railroad official, a World's Fair director and others of lowlier station.

Delegate Fontana called the messenger to him and said:

"You go in and tell Dave I'm comin' in pretty soon if he don't come out."

"But you cannot do that," said the messenger. "The president is talking to Sir Hugh Gilzean-Reid of London and the French ambassador."

"That cuts no ice with me," cried Mr. Fontana, hotly. "I guess you don't know who I am. I'm a member of the House of Delegates. What's a British nobleman or a French ambassador to me? Hustle, now, or I'm goin' home."

He was eventually admitted.

CLUBWOMEN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Machine Carrying Eight Chicago Visitors Wrecked Against Hitching Post.

Eight prominent Chicago clubwomen had a narrow escape from injury when the chauffeur of the electric automobile in which they were riding lost control of the machine on West Pine boulevard near Vandeventer avenue Monday evening and succeeded in stopping only when the vehicle crashed into an iron hitching post and a small tree near the curb. The machine was wrecked, but none of the party was injured.

The women were Mmes. F. M. Firth, S. A. Hill, W. A. Gardiner, J. N. Glenn, John Spry, W. T. Montgomery, W. H. Salisbury and Miss Hester Hill of Evanston. The automobile had seats for eight people, the two rear seats facing each other and holding three people each. Mrs. Gardiner and Mrs. Salisbury were seated near the back of the automobile, which struck the sidewalk first.

After the machine had gotten beyond control the chauffeur, who is said to have been young and inexperienced, attempted to reverse the motor, but, failing, sent the auto skidding sidewise across the slippery asphalt at frightful speed. The rear end of the vehicle struck an iron hitching post near the curb and the automobile then stopped.

The occupants at once went to the Buckingham Club, where they are staying.

DR. DUFF'S SCIENTIFIC, CERTAIN AND COMPLETE CURE FOR MEN

Weak, Nervous, Restless at night, and Weak, Aching Back, Diseased Kidneys, Inflamed Prostate, Despondent, Lack of Energy, Ambition and Strength, Poor Memory, Hollow Eyed, Face Pimples and Dark Circles under eyes. Bashful, Melancholic, Youthful Abuse and folly, Weak, Trembles, Varicocele, Day Drains, Night Emissions, Premature Discharge, Lost Manhood, Excessive Sexual Practice and Drinking, Loss of Semen in Urine, Exposure, Overwork and Worry, Producing Brain Fag.

An endless number of men have one or more of the above symptoms and drag from day to day in despair of a prosperous, happy future, and well they may, for if neglected their health is sure to be wrecked by a complete loss of physical, mental and sexual power.

CHAS. A. DUFF, M. D.

My method completely and permanently revives manhood after "once-all" remedies and "quick cure" specialists fail to even benefit.

My scientific, systematic course of treatment for weak, nervous, broken-down youths and men, who have through folly, dissipation and excesses, unfitted themselves for work and the enjoyment of life, is a system that has been tested many times over and proven entirely satisfactory in every case. It is totally different from the many sickening pills and tablets, and the stimulating, stomach-ruining drugs given by would-be specialists. My specific treatment for all the symptoms indicating Failing Manhood is harmless, though so effective as to remove them immediately. It is constitutional; therefore, by purifying and enriching the blood, strengthening the nervous system, nourishing the tissues, the patient becomes strong and healthy, with all signs of the trouble forever gone. This treatment is to the human system what the sap is to the tree. It buds energy and ambition that leaf into a prime, healthy, manly feeling of new life.

NO CURE, NO PAY.—Every patient receives a written guarantee to refund every dollar paid for services in a specified length of time if they do not receive a complete, lifelong cure and entire satisfaction, and my well-known financial standing is sufficient evidence to any one that I am entirely responsible for any contract that is not fulfilled.

Consultation Free, Confidential and Invited, both at office and by correspondence. Successful treatment by mail. Terms are always made to suit the convenience of anyone applying for treatment, and very reasonable charges. Do not treat elsewhere until you have investigated my methods and terms. Office hours during week: 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.; Sundays, 9 to 1.

"Babette" Is Going Without Fritzi Scheff

It seems there is also a tide in the affairs of women.

For a great opportunity came to Miss Ida Hawley at the Olympic Theater Monday night.

She stood in the shoes of Fritzi Scheff.

I am not saying she filled the shoes of Fritzi Scheff, but I am sure she did not rattle around in them.

Miss Hawley is Miss Scheff's understudy. The inspirited Fritzi went automobiling Monday. She saw the German mountains out on the Pike, and they made her so homesick that from the most cheerful and animated of prima donnas she became the most miserable and dispirited of women, and called in a physician, who was discouraging enough to say that it would probably be a week ere Miss Scheff would be able to appear on the stage.

The heroine of grand opera duels with Mme. Sembrich, the kissing episode with Victor Herbert and thunderous acclaim upon both sides of the two-sided Atlantic has that most commonplace of American ills—the grip.

When it became known that Miss Scheff would not be able to appear in the opening St. Louis performance of "Babette" Monday night the managers of the show and the house were in the state Igorrotish. Some of them thought the theater should be nailed up until Miss Scheff should be able to appear. Others thought the house should remain open and that Miss Hawley should be given an opportunity.

The Monday night house was to be one of the biggest in the history of the Olympic. Every seat had been sold, and there had been opportunities to sell some of them two or three times. The people were all eagerness to hear Fritzi Scheff—or maybe some of them wanted to hear Victor Herbert's newest opera.

It was agreed to give the people an opportunity to say what it was they wanted to hear, so Miss Hawley was commanded to make ready, and the Olympic was thrown open for the Monday night performance.

As the people came in they were informed that Miss Scheff was not appearing, and they were offered their choice between going in and exchanging their seats for some night next week, when the prima donna is expected to be restored to health and the cast.

A surprising number of the people chose to go in. Doubtless, most of them had want to see Fritzi Scheff, but they were not going to discourage brave effort to be made by Miss Hawley.

Miss Hawley is a pleasing brunette with a bird-like voice and a certain chic manner that is quite charming. The role of Babette had been made for Fritzi Scheff, and it is doubtful if it would fit any other person on earth; but Miss Hawley went at it bravely, and at the end of the first act the audience set to work and gave her such a salvo of applause that she must have felt that her efforts had been attended by some measure of success.

"Babette" is a good show. It is a comic opera—really, I believe, a comic opera. It is like everything Victor Herbert has done—wonderfully musical. The story is by Harry B. Smith. The scenes are laid in the Netherlands and France during the Spanish invasion of the Netherlands. The chorus is big and voiceful, and the scenery and costumes are smart and beautiful.

"Babette," without Fritzi Scheff was so good that we must expect it to be one of the real treats of the season when Miss Scheff returns to it. It has good people, good music, a nice movement from the viewpoint of stage management, and there is fun in it.

Lois Harrison is with the company. Is he? Well, I suppose he is. He killed the house a half dozen times Monday night. He is a funny fellow, and the audience enjoyed him so much at times that he had trouble getting away and letting some of the other members of the company have a turn at entertaining the crowd. Eugene Cowles, with the very voice of wrath in his throat; Richie Ling, a tenor who has pleased us here this, and Josephine Bartlett, a comedienne of fine ability, are some of the good people with this good show.

"Babette" will be given every night for two weeks. It is expected that Miss Scheff will return to the cast Thursday night.

Grover Cleveland Would Enjoy This Week's Columbia Bill

Grover Cleveland would enjoy this week's Columbia bill.

A seasoned fisherman like Grover would have patience to wait until it gets good.

There are a good many indolent nibblings at the hook of one's interest when the fishing begins. What they are doing at the Columbia is the management's own dead secret. If it is any fun wondering if there is anything doing, then there is plenty of this sort of fun in the first hour of the Columbia bill.

After this first hour some real fish come along and frighten the tadpoles away. Then there is some real fishing, which gets better and better until the bill discloses itself as one of the best the Columbia has had.

Emmett Corrigan is the biggest fish in the pool. Mr. Corrigan may be said to be the whole splash in whatsoever vaudeville bill he is found, for now that Bob Hillard is gone out of vaudeville, it is doubtful if there is left another actor so good as Corrigan. He has a new sketch this time. It is "Jockey Jones, or the Day of the Handicap," and it was written for him by Edward J. White, a St. Louis playwright. Mr. Corrigan has the assistance of three person in presenting it. He is Willie Jones, jockey. Willie meets with an accident, and loses both his legs. We see him in the hospital the day of a great handicap, when he was to have ridden Thunder. There is a girl in the story, and she gives Willie the double-cross—promising to marry him if he will not let Thunder win. She does this to enrich her lover, Blake, who is a bookmaker. Willie discovers the deception just before the race begins, and, while he cannot ride Thunder himself, he can pull for him here in the bed, and he does pull for him. We see the horses running—thanks to an ingenious stereopticon arrangement, and Thunder wins. Revenge kills Willie, and he is dead on his cot when the lights are turned up. It is not the best thing Mr. Corrigan has had for a sketch, but his skill as an actor in many respects makes strength of its weakness.

Other good fish in the pool are Dave Genaro and Ray Bailey, who have a funny sketch full of "ballon." It is "A Victim of Circumstances." Genaro always amuses a Columbia audience, and he is becoming a favorite. Smith and Fuller, whose musical novelties are always pleasing, are back with us in the bill, and the Avon Comedy Four and William Jerome Mills, the last-named an impersonator, afford considerable amusement. The Avon four have rather improved on the old schoolroom stunt. They whoop it up pretty lively, and when the pupils get to soaking the teacher with paper wads (the wads in this case are five-pounders) the audience shrieks for joy.

Barney Ferguson and John Mack, a pair of Irish comedians, have no trouble at all getting the house in an uproar. Their nonsense illustrates nothing so well as desperation to make a living. How desperate they got before they decided to lend themselves to their work as the Dimple Sisters one can only imagine by thinking hard.

Raimund and Good are a pair of the early birds on the bill. The management could improve the performance by putting them on during the intermission.

Loro and Payne, comedy acrobats, are another early pair. One of these men is quite an acrobat. The other puts in his time falling over a chair. The audience was unable to understand how he got on the stage or why he was permitted to stay on it.

Few Columbia bills are so big as this. If you don't get nervous and go to early you will see a good show.

Thursday night will be souvenir night at the Crawford Theater. Every lady holding a reserved seat will be given a handsome cloth-bound copy of "Quincy Adams Sawyer," the book from which the Crawford's World's Fair show was dramatized. The book carries 16 full-page illustrations.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF DOINGS IN MARKET AND FINANCIAL WORLD

VERY IRREGULAR TODAY, WITH WEAKER CLOSE

Most of the Buying Was Short Covering, Which Was Main Sustaining Power of Today's Market.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The market opened in a halting manner this morning, though initial prices were somewhat higher, on the average, than the close yesterday. London was stronger, but had buying orders here amounting to about 8000 shares. Consols were 1-16d lower for both money and the account.

A great many of the brokers are timid as to the present conditions of the market. There is very little that is bullish in the way of increased demand by the outsiders, railway earnings are decreasing, and the monetary situation is such that it bears close watching. The short interest shows no signs of diminishing and many of the best posted feel that a rally that will cause some lively short covering is about due.

Erie was weak again at the opening. Continued talk of poor earnings and a possible change of control are said to be the cause of the heavy selling yesterday. Morgan is supposed to have liquidated a large amount of his holdings during the past month.

There was good buying in Brooklyn Rapid Transit yesterday. The actions of that stock are very hard to fathom and many that formerly were speculators in the issue are fighting shy.

The banks are doing some calling of loans lately, it being estimated that upwards of $20,000,000 were called yesterday.

The trading for the first half hour was small and prices at the end of that period had generally lost all of their earlier gain.

The market lagged considerably around the noon hour after having been very uncertain for a time. Steel preferred showed some excellent buying and made a recovery, part of which was later lost on trading in some round lots. Brooklyn was again active under manipulations and gain a full point from the low.

The banks continue to lose in cash, it being estimated that the loss to the subtreasury alone amounts to $9,000,000. Exchange rates are a shade easier and the reduction may cause a let up in the shipments of gold.

The sales to noon were 177,600 shares, with call money at 2 per cent.

Bull tips were again in evidence on Brooklyn, some of those who claimed inside information stating that the increase in earnings this year would amount to at least $1,250,000. The company expects that by July 1 the cars will be running over the new Williamsburg bridge.

Predictions are again made that the next dividend on Copper will show an increase, there being ⅝ bid for the next dividend, while the regular dividend would be but ½.

Trading was spotted in character and would become lively for a time only to relapse into extreme lassitude. Both sides were nervous and neither appeared to have any decided advantage.

The close was irregular and quiet, with the last prices showing a rather weak tone to the general market.

The opening prices and changes were as follows: Copper, 49⅛, unchanged; Atchison, 68, advanced ¼; Baltimore & Ohio, 77⅜, advanced ¼; Brooklyn, 44¼, advanced ⅛; Erie, 21⅞, declined 8; Metropolitan, 110⅝, unchanged; Missouri Pacific, 89⅝, advanced ¼; Pennsylvania, 113⅛, advanced ⅛; Rock Island, 20½, advanced ⅛; Reading, 41½, advanced ⅝; St. Paul, 139, unchanged; Southern Pacific, 45, declined ⅛; Union Pacific 82⅝, advanced ¼; Steel, common, 8⅜, advanced ⅛; Steel, preferred, 52⅞, advanced ½.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The opening trading in the banking market today was light and the majority of prominent stocks were higher but there were a number of exceptions among minor stocks. Consolidated Gas rose 1½. Erie first preferred ⅞ and U. S. Steel preferred ⅛, otherwise the changes were small fractions.

Speculation lacked a decisive tone during the first hour. Leading stocks alternately advanced and receded slightly. U. S. Steel preferred crossed 53, but lost the rise on heavy sales. Consolidated Gas reacted a point and over-night declines of as much were made by Colorado & Southern first preferred and Denver & Rio Grande. Republic Steel preferred gained 1. Amalgamated, Metropolitan Street Railway, Brooklyn Transit, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Atchison and Pennsylvania were sold freely. A rise of a point in Brooklyn Transit steadied the market.

Prices held pretty firmly at the rally, but the market became dull at slightly above last night's level. Consolidated Gas rose 2⅜.

Bonds were steady at noon.

VARIED PRICES FOR THE TRACTIONS

Market Showed Early Strength, Then Sagged Off, But Recovered Part of Loss.

BONDS IN BETTER DEMAND

Industrial Stocks Were Inactive, Bids and Offers Being Very Few Today.

The market for local stocks this morning was confined mainly to trading in Transit. The early trading promised better prices but there were too many selling orders on the floor and after an opening at $14.25 there was a gradual decline to $13.75, at which figure a demand was evident that lifted the quotation to the close to $13.87½. Preferred was stronger, a sale of a small lot being recorded at $58.50. The bonds brought $81.62½ for $2000.

International bank lost a half ponit, selling at $204.50. Comonwealth Trust was easier at $260 and an odd lot of Mercantile went at $335.

The industrial list was neglected and showed no recorded sales at the early session.

WHEAT HARVEST BEGUN IN TEXAS

A Strong and Advancing Market Receives a Setback From This Condition.

CORN AND OATS WEAKEN

Numerous Bullish Influences Run in Many Wheat Shorts—Receipts Larger.

Shorts were conspicuous buyers of wheat today, their purchases going a long way towards the advance of 1c that was made. After the sharp edge of this demand wore off the market went back ⅜c, a report that harvesting had commenced in Texas, having a bearish effect and tending to increased selling. Bull features that impressed shorts were large decreases in available supplies, prospective rain in spring wheat and unseasonable cold in winter wheat sections and bad crop news from Russia and Roumania that had alarmed several European markets. Now that the short interest has been cut down bearish influences will have more effect. Weather of a better character appears due for the sections where coarse grains are principally raised. Receipts are larger and the cash markets are feeling the effects of these heavier offerings. Better reports on the crops should be heard.

WHEAT—The fact that visible supplies had actually decreased last week 2,871,000 bu instead of 1,655,000 bu, as reported, was a strong factor at the opening, which was ⅝d higher, but weather conditions continued unseasonably cold and the prospects were for another rainy spell in the Northwest, which also had a bullish effect. Cables showed little response abroad to the large advance in this country yesterday, Liverpool opening ⅜d higher and then falling back ⅛d, though London ⅝d and Paris ½c better. Receipts here were 25,200 bu, against 28,800 bu one year ago. July opened at 84¼c and fell back to 84c on free selling, but soon rallied to 84¼c and 84¼@84⅜c was bid. September was offered at 80⅝c, but opened at 80¾c and 80¾@80⅞c bid.

A weak spell started the bears to selling and July was pounded down to 83¾c, September then offered at 80½@80⅝c, but this followed by a strong rise in part due to advances of 1¼c at Berlin and Budapest (4¼c gain in two days at latter market) and over 500,000 bushels decrease, Minneapolis stock so far, per week. All foreign markets closed higher—Liverpool ⅜d, London ⅝d, Paris ¼@½c—save Antwerp, which unchanged. Bradstreet's world available decreased 3,830,000 bushels against 4,400,000 bushels decrease a year ago. July sold up to 84⅝c, and September to 81¼c. May opening at $1.06. Primary receipts were 195,000 bushels against 232,000 bushels, and shipments 284,000 against 280,000 bushels last year. Clearances in flour and wheat were 148,000.

July sold up to 84⅞c and September to 81⅝c, but weakened later on report that harvest had begun in Texas. Selling increased to such an extent that July declined to 84⅛c, with that asked at close, when September offered at 80⅝c. May sold at $1.06. It was reported that 40 loads hard winter sold for August and September shipment via the gulf.

Cash market—Strong. Stock of No. 2 red practically all sold. Sample offerings larger of hard winter, but choice strong and in demand. Soft winter dead scarce, a car No. 2 red selling East Side at $1.08½ destination. No. 3 red nominally $1.06½ and No. 4 according to quality, 90c@$1.02. No. 2 hard sold at 96@97½c and Turkey 98@98½c; No. 3 hard at 90@96c; No. 4 hard at 81@88c. No. 2 white spring quotable at 99c@$1 and No. 3 97@98c.

CORN—Weather conditions indicated a change for the better, clearing skies and probably warmer temperatures, and receipts were good, 73,900 bu having arrived, against 55,900 bu one year ago. A firm market in Chicago, however, held the local market steady, but outside bids of 47⅜c for July and 46⅝c for September no attempt made to trade. Liverpool was ⅛d higher.

The market weakened on declines at other points, July being offered here at 47⅜@47½c and September at 46½c, but later July sold at 47½@47⅝c. Bradstreet's available decreased 1,444,000 bu, against 1,342,000 bu decrease a year ago. Primary receipts were 267,000 bu, against 304,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 606,000 bu against 390,000 bu last year. Clearances were 92,000 bu.

A decidedly weaker market developed later at all points. July selling here down to 47⅝c and at close 47¼c asked. September nominally 46¼c. May had 50⅝c bid.

Cash market—Stronger for choice; off grades dull. By sample local—No. 2 at 52½@53c and off grade 52c asked; No. 3 at 50¾@51c; No. 4 at 47@48c; No. 2 yellow at 53½c; No. 3 do at 52@52½c; No. 2 white at 55c; No. 3 do at 52½c. Destination—No. 3 at 51@51½c; No. 2 white at 55@55½c and old 56½c; No. 3 do at 52@53c.

OATS—Entirely neglected was the future market this morning. Receipts were 63,400 bu against 41,850 bu one year ago.

Not a trade was made during the forenoon. Bradstreet's available decreased 1,128,000 bu against 1,079,000 bu decrease a year ago. Primary receipts were 494,000 bu, against 255,000 bu, and shipments 373,000 bu against 406,000 bu last year. Clearances were 40,500 bu.

Later in the session July was offered at 37c. September nominally 30½c and May 41¼c.

Cash Market—Slow and heavy; demand limited and offerings larger. By sample delivered No. 2 at 42½c; No. 3 at 42c; No. 4 at 41@42c; No. 2 white at 45c; No. 3 white at 43½@44½c; No. 4 white 42@43c.

Trade Topics.

The decrease in the visible supply of wheat last week should have been 2,871,000 bu instead of 1,655,000 bu, as reported yesterday. Decreases of 1,216,000 bu at Port Arthur and Fort William (at latter point in part through destruction of an elevator by fire) were not included in last week's figures. They will be in next week's. Actual total of the wheat visible is now 26,522,000 bu, compared with 30,655,000 bu a year ago, the smallest since 1898, the eLiter year of short supplies.

Liverpool—Wheat—The strength in American markets yesterday and unfavorable Russian crop news caused steady opening at ⅛d higher. Later, July gained ⅛d. but moderate realizing took edge off the advance and caused declines in July of ¼d and September of ⅛d. Corn—Higher American cables and lack of sellers caused opening advance of ⅛d. no further change occurring during morning.

Roumanian and probably the Russian wheat crops must be in a bad way. Latest reports indicate practically no relief from the drouth in Danubian countries and advices from Russia are very unsatisfactory. Since Saturday's close Budapest has advanced 4¼c and today's Berlin market is 1¼c higher. Former is directly influenced by condition of crops in eastern Europe, and Berlin by Russian crops, Germany draining largely on that country for supplies.

Bradstreet's reported a decrease last week of 4,230,000 bu in available supplies of wheat east of the Rockies last week, against 5,024,000 bu decrease a year ago, and a decrease at points outside the official visible of 1,359,000 bu last week, against 1,717,000 bu decrease a year ago. Stock of wheat and flour afloat for European supplies increased 400,000 bu last week, against 700,000 bu increase a year ago. The world's available consequently decreased 3,830,000 bu last week, where a year ago it decreased 4,394,000 bu. Available supplies of corn decreased 1,444,000 bu last week, against 1,342,000 bu decrease a year ago, where the regular visible decreased 902,000 bu last week.

Oats decreased 1,128,000 bu last week, against 1,079,000 bu decrease last year and a decrease of 907,000 bu last week in regular visible.

Following is a condensation of foreign crop conditions as published today in Broomhall's Liverpool Corn Trade News: United Kingdom—Everything promises well except wheat. It is now definitely known that the loss in winter wheat acreage was not made up by a corresponding increase in spring wheat area. France, Germany, Italy, Spain and North Africa—Weather continues seasonable and crop reports are very favorable. Hungary—Beneficial rains have fallen, which needed for spring crops. Roumania and Bulgaria—Good soaking rains urgently needed. Russia—Further bad crop reports are received from the Southwest. Good rains have occurred in the Crimea. Australia—We confirm our previous surmise of there being good farmers' reserves. An increased wheat acreage is expected this year. The size of future shipments will depend somewhat on crop prospects.

A telegram from Waxahacie, Texas, says that wheat harvesting will begin next Saturday, the yield expected to be 18 to 20 bu to the acre. The weather bureau, it is said, reports that wheat cutting has already begun in Texas. This is about the time of the year harvesting starts in the southern sections of that state.

FLOUR—No change to note, the very moderate business entirely on domestic account, as nothing can be done in the way of export. Quotations on soft winter in wood: Patents, $4.90@5.00, and special brands, 15@25c higher; straights, $4.75@4.85; extra fancy, $4.60@4.70; clear, $4.90@5.15; medium and low grades in jutes, $2.50@3.25. Hard winter in jutes: Patents, $4.10@4.25; straights, $3.80@3.90; clears, $3.10@3.30; lower grades, $2.50@2.75. Spring wheat patents, in bulk, $4.45@4.65.

MILLFEED—Not enough doing to really make a market. Little obtainable, held firmly at $1 for both bran and mixed. At mill bran jobs at $1.05 and ships at $1.10.

RYE—Scarce and nominally higher at 72c for No. 2 and 69@70c for No. 3.

HAY—A moderate local demand at steady prices for the best timothy and clover and light mixed, but slow for medium and low grades. Prairie steady; offerings not so large. Market on basis track: Timothy, choice, $14@14.50; No. 1, $13@13.50; No. 2, $11@12.50; No. 3, $8@10. Clover—$10.50@11 for No. 1 and $9@10 for No. 2. Clover mixed, $12@12.50 for choice and $10@11 for No. 1; $8.50@9.50 for No. 2. Prairie—No. 1, $9; No. 2, $8@8.50; No. 3 or low, $6@7.50.

STRAW—Wheat and oat on track, $8@8.50; rye, $9@10.

FLAXSEED—St. Louis nominally lower at 96½c. Chicago—Northwestern, $1.08; southwestern, 99½c bid; July, $1.02a; September, $1.04⅛. Duluth—May, $1.06⅝ bid; July, $1.07⅝ bid.

PORK—F. o. b.: New standard mess jobbing—closed at $11.50.

LARD—Choice steam east side closed at 6c; kettle-rendered, 6⅝@6⅞c.

BACON—Boxed s. c. meats, jobbing: Breakfast bacon at 9½c for heavy to 13c for choice light; hams, 10½@11½c; California, 7½c; New York shoulders, 7½c. Plain smoked boxed lots jobbing: Extra shorts, 7½c; ribs, 7½c; short clear, 7⅝c; bellies, 7⅞@7⅞c; plates, 6¼c; fat backs, 6½c; standard backs, 7¼c.

COUNTRY LARD—Quotable at 5½@6c.

COUNTRY BACON—Sides, 4@6c; hams, 10c.

OLEO-STEARINE—Nominal at 8c.

TALLOW—Country—No. 1, 4¼@4½c; No. 2, 3½c; packers' prime, 4¼@4¼c.

GREASE—Small irregular lots country: Brown, 3¼c; yellow, 3⅝@3½c, and white, 4¼c to 4½c—latter for choice. Packers' stock nominally: Brown, 3½@3¾c; yellow, 3⅝@3¾c; white, 4⅜@5c.

LEAD—Dull at $4.37½, at which latest sales Missouri, and more offered at that price.

SPELTER—Dull and weak, with sellers at $4.97½ and none taken.

GRAIN MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

CHICAGO, May 17.—On account of the small amount of contract grain the sentiment in the wheat pit today was bullish. July opened ¼c to ½c higher at 86⅛c to 86⅜c and held steady within the opening range. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 62 cars, against 158 a year ago.

Strength in wheat and a decrease of half a million bushels in contract stocks caused firmness in corn. July opened unchanged to ⅛@¼c higher at 48c to 48⅛@48¼c. On realizing sales, due to excellent weather, the price settled back to 47⅞c.

Favorable weather for the growth of the new crop caused an easier tone in oats. July opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 38⅛c to 38⅝c and sold off to 38⅝c.

Provisions were firm. July pork opened 5c higher at $11.32½ and advanced to $11.37½. Lard was up 2½c at $6.47½. Ribs were unchanged at $6.45.

GOV. CUMMINS IS VIRTUALLY SHELVED

Secretary Shaw Carrying Out President's Orders in Iowa—State Platform to Be Discarded.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DES MOINES, Io., May 17.—Senator Wm. B. Allison, Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and Congressmen Hepburn, Hill, Smith, Hedge, Conner, Haugheń, Cousins and Lacy are at the Savoy Hotel discussing the forthcoming Republican state convention with various party leaders.

J. W. Blythe of Burlington is the man in charge. Gov. Cummins is conspicuously absent. Nothing is heard but stand pat talk. It is the understanding that Senator Allison and Secretary Shaw have been apprised of the wishes of President Roosevelt in regard to the Iowa platform and that the resolutions will be written in accordance with this view. Thus they will most likely afford a safe indication of what may be expected in the national platform.

It is settled that the recent Iowa platform, which was dictated by Gov. Cummins, will not be reaffirmed, but the last national platform will be reaffirmed.

Of the 1302 delegates, 1015 are against Cummins and tariff reform. The governor's friends have let the contest go by default.

Secretary Shaw denied the report that he is intending to resign from the cabinet next March, after Roosevelt's inauguration. He says that he is undecided in this regard.

ELEVEN JURORS GAVE VERDICT FOR $4000

In the damage suit of John Flynn against the St. Louis Transit Co., in Judge Douglas' division of the circuit court Tuesday afternoon, it required only eleven members of the jury to render a verdict of $4000 damages, instead of the conventional twelve.

Monday afternoon one of the jurors, Frank Goodnow of 4912 Fountain avenue, was called away on account of the illness of a relative. As the plaintiff's testimony had already been heard, it was agreed that the eleven jurors could render a decision provided it be a unanimous one. The damage suit which was for $20,000 was brought by Flynn on account of injuries which he says he received on June 3, 1903, by being thrown to the street by the conductor of a Broadway car.

Election Opinion Sustained.

In an opinion handed down Tuesday the Court of Appeals affirmed the ruling of Judge McElhinney at Clayton in the case of John F. O'Laughlin vs. the city of Kirkwood. Suit was brought in the court at Clayton to test the legality of a local option election held June 13, 1903. The election resulted in a victory for those desiring to close the saloons. Alleging illegal voting, O'Laughlin, who was a saloon keeper, brought suit to have the election declared void. His suit was decided adversely by Judge McElhinney and the latter was sustained.

Pike Men May Enjoin.

The Pike concessionaires will hold a meeting Wednesday night to consider a contract with the Exposition company regarding the number of passes to be used on the Pike. The contract signed gives the Exposition company the right to limit the number of passes and to this the concessionaires object. Several have stated that in case the company does not agree to abrogate this clause in the contract they will seek to enjoin the company from interfering with this part of the business.

DID SHE ASSERT LEAP-YEAR RIGHT?

That Question Must Be Settled in Miss Fluckiger's Breach of Promise Suit.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 18.—Marion Lewis, a 20-year-old boy living at Verona, near Syracuse, has been arrested in a $10,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Miss Addie Fluckiger of Ellenville, and is now in the Ulster County jail.

The principal question to be determined when the case is tried is whether Miss Fluckiger took advantage of her leap-year rights to propose to the boy she is now prosecuting.

Lewis went to Ellenville early this year to visit his aunt. While there he met Miss Fluckiger, who is one of the most prominent workers in the local W. C. T. U., through whose ceaseless efforts the "lid" in Ellenville has been kept on very tight. The W. C. T. U. waged a strenuous campaign against sin and intemperance and part of its campaign was a series of evangelical services.

Up-state country villages have but infrequent advantages of opera and theatricals, and anything that furnishes excitement is hailed with joy. Lewis naturally, therefore, drifted into the meetings which were being held.

Miss Fluckiger was one of the leading spirits in the evangelical meetings, and a part of her duty was to look after strangers who attended them. In this way she met young Lewis.

Talks of temperance led to talks of matrimony, Miss Fluckiger claims, and it was during one of these pleasant conversations, she alleges, that Lewis proposed marriage. She accepted his proposal, and when he tried to back out of it she entered suit for $10,000 and had him arrested.

Lewis' story differs from that of Miss Fluckinger. He admits that he attended services at which Miss Fluckinger was present and that he met her there. But he denies that he proposed marriage to her. On the contrary, he says, Miss Fluckiger, taking advantage of the fact that this is leap year, proposed to him.

He denies that he consented to the proposal. But even if he did accept the proposal, he sets up in his answer, the contract is not binding, because he was then under the age of 21 years, and as a contract made with a minor is void, he asks that her complaint be dismissed.

Oliver P. Carpenter of this city has been appointed guardian ad litem for the boy in the breach of promise suit.

LEFT HIS ROLL WITH BARKEEP

New Orleans Visitor Has Forgotten Who Has His $645.

Thomas F. White, a New Orleans photographer, who has come to the World's Fair, complains to the police that forgetting the location of a certain green-fronted saloon in St. Louis has cost him $645.

White was picked up at Eighth and Market streets Monday night. He was taken to the Four Courts, and Tuesday, when he had recovered from severe drinking, he said that Sunday he went into a St. Louis saloon and gave the bartender $645 in cash and a draft on the National Bank of Commerce. He had been drinking, and the barkeeper sent him to a rooming house across the street. He left the rooming house Monday, and renewed his drinking. He says he has no idea where the saloon with the green front is.

BARBER'S SON WAS BARBER'S VICTIM

Mr. Otto Rappold Complained to Police of Craps Shooters—and Paid Boy's Fine.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Mr. Otto Rappold, a barber, whose shop is at 335 West Seventeenth street, has been greatly annoyed by boys playing craps in front of his window.

It is a matter of real peril to a client, he explained to the police, when, having the man in the chair properly lathered and his gleaming razor poised, the stillness is suddenly broken by a series of wild, piercing yells of "Hi! Yi!" "Come seven! Come eleven!" "Ow! Wow!" and the like.

The barber grew nervous, his patrons apprehensive, as the crap game went on from day to day. The barber would not—could not—keep on shaving. He went to Police Commissioner McAdoo and complained. The game, he said, took on its most violent form on Sundays.

Capt. Martin Handy sent out a detail of six nimble policemen to capture the crap-shooters. They found a group of the boys at it last Sunday morning, cracking their fingers and emitting Comanche-like yells as the dice fell for good or ill.

There was one particularly strenuous lad, with a shrill voice like a million crickets, whose manner of punctuating the game with noises attracted the especial attention of the capturing party. They seemed to realize in him the justification of Barber Rappold's complaint. They pounced on him and bore him away, struggling, to the West Twentieth street police station. The barber was sent for to make a complaint.

"Ah!" exclaimed Rappold, as he hurried off to the station. "Now I get some satisfaction—yes—ha! ha!"

When he had arrived at the station, however, and had taken one look at the culprit, he collapsed like a man in a fit.

"My son! My son!" he gasped. "This is one outrage—yes! Why did you arrest him? O, this is terrible!"

It took four policemen to keep him from laying hands on Martin Kehoe, who was in charge of the capturing squad.

Justice Wyatt convicted young Rappold and remanded him for sentence on Thursday.

And the blow almost killed Rappold senior.

STUDENTS HEAR PU LUN

Chinese Imperial Commissioner to World's Fair Praises American Educational Attainments.

CHICAGO, May 17.—Prince Pu Lun of China has made an address in Chinese to an audience of 100 students at the University of Chicago. His remarks were interpreted by Wong Kui Kail, a Yale graduate. The Prince said in part:

"From the time I landed at San Francisco during my entire visit to your country, I have been most surprised to find that every man and woman in America is educated. This, I believe, is the basis of the success of the American people."

Mr. Wong also spoke, making a plea for the easy admission to the United States of Chinese students. He said:

"One-fourth of the Chinese students who were in this country when I was in college at Yale, have since fallen in battle, shot in front. To get shot in front was something they learned in America."

YAQUIS' NEIGHBORS HERE.

Indian School Superintendent Brings Papagos to Fair.

The near neighbor and first friend of the unconquerable Yaqui Indian of Mexican government trouble reached the St. Louis Fair Tuesday.

He is the Papago, from the redhot end of Arizona.

Robert Larimer, superintendent of the Indian School at Saccaton, Ariz., brought the Papagos to the Fair. With them he brought some Pima and Maricopa Indians, noted for their skill in basket making. There are 20 Indians in this band, all from the south of Arizona and Southern California. They will pitch their tepees near the Indian building.

FILIPINO STUDENTS COMING TO LEARN AMERICAN WAYS

A hundred Filipino students are coming to the World's Fair to learn things. They will spend a month on the Philippine reservation. Their expenses are to be borne by the insular government.

The students are now at California institutions as wards of the insular government. They have been sent to this country to be educated, on the strength of an agreement that they will work three years in the civil service on their return to the islands.

E. A. Fieder, the executive commissioner of the Philippine Exposition, is finding some difficulty in providing quarters for the students. Arrangements may be made for them to stop at the Inside Inn or tents may be erected for them.

CHANCE SHOT SAVES MAIL FROM ROBBERS

Carelessness of Chicago Desperadoes With Revolver, Frustrates Their Plans for Rich Haul.

CHICAGO, May 17.—Three highwaymen attempted to rob a United States registered mail wagon early today near the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad station. The accidental discharge of a revolver frustrated their plans and they escaped after a street duel with the police.

It was this wagon that Marks, Van Dine and Neidermeier, the carbarn bandits, planned to rob during their brief career as desperadoes. Their plans miscarried, however. The police believe today's highwaymen were inspired to attempt the daring crime by the story of the men hanged on April 22.

The contents of the wagon were valued at several thousand dollars.

When the driver of the wagon, E. J. Graff, was passing an alley three men ran out into the street in front of his team. Two of the men tried to stop the horses by grabbing the bridles and the third undertook to climb on the seat. The one who was making the effort to get on the wagon fired a shot, which was apparently accidental, and the horses jumped. Graff plied the whip at the same time and the team lunged ahead. Shots were fired after the wagon, but the driver would not stop.

Two policemen saw one of the men and fired at him. The highwayman returned the shots and ran, making his escape. The other men slipped away during the revolver fight.

Yager sues in the Circuit Court for $10,000 against former County Superintendent of Public Schools Frank Bruce. DONOVAN COMMISSION CO. ON THE MARKETS.

ST. LOUIS, May 17.—A large aggregation of short sellers run out of the wheat market today after they had boosted the price in their covering act, which they have down fine now, so often have they done it. The news had them up in the air. Too much of the actual grain was going out of sight, if part had to be burnt up to get rid of it. The weather map didn't give them any encouragement, for it looked like more "wetness" in the northwest. There was also a crop scare across the water that had stirred up the foreigners, and may give them a bad scare if it continues. These bullish alarms may be expected whenever the bear side gets too popular, but after its backers get the books as they did today setbacks may be looked for. It looks to me good speculation to take profits on this advance and have yourself in shape to get in on any good decline.

This corn and oats deal looks heavy, sort of fagged out, and unless something develops pretty quick to give them stronger underpinning they may take a tumble. The weather promises a change favorable for their new crops and the country is sending more of the old crops to market. Would sell them on any bulge.

Where it is made—how many hands it has passed through since leaving the dairy, is something the buyer don't know. With Meadow Gold Butter all doubt is ended. Made in the cleanest creameries on earth, then packed pure and sweet, as it comes from the churn, into the airtight package, which effectually protects from odor and dirt, it reaches your table clean and dainty—always the same. The name and package guarantees the quality. FALLING BRICK WALL INJURES FIRE FIGHTER

Policeman Is Dangerously Hurt and Fireman Suffered Fracture of Leg at Burning North Broadway Factory—Damage Is $55,000.

FAMILIES AROUSED BY POLICE LEAVE SAFELY

Heavy Loss in Kay-Pim Machine Plant Is Caused by Early Morning Blaze Whose Origin Watchman Cannot Explain.

While helping the members of engine company No. 5 to lay hose in the rear of the building of the Kay-Pim Manufacturing Co., at Broadway and Monroe street, at 5:40 o'clock this morning, Patrolman Edward Ely of 1525 North Seventh street was caught by a falling wall and sustained injuries which may prove fatal. Henry Krenning, a fireman, living at 738 Euclid avenue, was also caught by the wall, his left leg being fractured.

No. 5 answered the first alarm, and was stationed on the north side of the building near the rear. Patrolman Ely ran up and was helping the firemen to lay the hose, when, without a moment's warning, a portion of the wall near the top fell, the bricks striking Ely and Krenning.

Ely was struck upon the head and rendered unconscious. He was immediately removed to his home, where it was found his skull was fractured. He is in a serious condition. Krenning was taken to the City Hospital. He is suffering from a fractured leg and a bruise on the head. He may also be internally injured.

At the time the wall fell Assistant Fire Chief Coughlin was directing the work of the men. When the dust of the falling brick cleared away the two men were seen lying on the ground partly covered by bricks. The assistant chief pulled them from the debris and telephoned for ambulances.

This is the second time Krenning has been injured by falling walls. Seven years ago, while working at a fire at Second and Lombard streets, he was caught under a wall and sustained injuries which confined him to his bed for several weeks.

The fire was first discovered at 5:35 o'clock by John Duposky, night watchman. He saw a small flame under the roof at the northeast end of the building, near the furnace room. Running out to send in the alarm, he met Patrolman Merschwirth, who turned in the alarm, and then rushed back to awaken the people occupying an apartment house adjoining the burning building on the north. Not knowing the extent of their danger, they rushed out into the street in scant attire, but returned to their rooms upon seeing that the fire would probably not reach their building.

On the arrival of the first companies, the entire north half of the building was found to be a mass of flames, and a second alarm was sent in. The fire was confined to this part of the building which was separated from the other half by a brick wall. The building was one story and was filled with machinery.

Duposky states that he cannot account for the origin of the fire unless it started from a spark from the furnace.

PAINTING THE EXPOSITION

In Bright Living Colors the Greatest World's Fair Will Be Given to Post-Dispatch Readers.

Photographs of the World's Fair buildings as the architects imagined they should be have been printed by the million, some in black and white, some colored, but none agree with the impressions which visitors to the Fair gain of the buildings as they actually are. Now, in the completed Fair, these buildings form only a part of the great picture, in which are the decorative monuments, pillars and landscape effects.

That a correct series of pictures might be obtained the Post-Dispatch commissioned a group of artists of the highest ability to paint truly the Fair as it is. The result has been beyond the expectation of the originator of the idea. The paintings are wonderful renderings of a great spectacle. Each one has been carefully reproduced in the original colors and a copy of each painting will be given to the readers of the Sunday Post-Dispatch. The first of these paintings will be given free with the next Sunday Post-Dispatch. You will want to preserve every one and frame them. They are not dead photographs, but living realities.

$1.25—To Hermann, Mo.—$1.25.

Leaving 8:20 a. m., Sunday, May 22. Tickets at Missouri Pacific Railway, Sixth and Olive, and excursion agents at Union Station and Tower Grove. "Griffin Excursions."

SPIRITUALISM IS CONDEMNED

Presbyterian Ministers Declare Teaching to Be Dangerous and of Diabolical Origin.

"Spiritualism is of the devil" was the assertion indorsed at the weekly meeting of the Presbyterian ministers of St. Louis Monday. The assertion was first made in a paper on "Psychic Phenomena" by Rev. P. V. Jenness. Remarks were made by Rev. Dr. B. H. Charles, Rev. W. J. Kessler, Rev. W. B. Floyd, Rev. Henry Gardner, Rev. C. L. Chalfant, Dr. M. C. Williams and others.

It was declared that the public should be taught that spiritualism is of the devil, and that no one can play with fire without being burned.

GIRL BRINGS BACK MISSING FIANCE

He Disappeared Hour Set for Wedding, She Next Day—On Their Return Wedding Celebrated.

After being strangely absent for a week, Hugh Jones returned to Alton Monday and married Miss Nettie Smith, to whom he was to have been wedded a week before.

Jones disappeared suddenly on the afternoon of the day first set for the wedding. His disappearance was not noted until the wedding guests and the minister had arrived. The wedding feast was duly enjoyed in the absence of the man who was to have been the bridegroom, and the guests went home, wondering.

Next day Miss Smith also disappeared. Her family said they did not know where she had gone. Monday she reappeared and Jones was with her. They secured a marriage license and Justice Francis Bradewide performed the ceremony. Both the bride and bridegroom refuse positively to say where they were during their unexplained absence, and those who were to have been the wedding guests are still wondering.

HEARST HAS ONE-FOURTH NOW

Dr. Gittian Figures the Opposition Will Easily Control Ohio.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBUS, O., May 17.—Dr. C. F. Gittian, secretary of the Kilburne committee gave out a summary of the situation in Ohio to date as to the Democratic state convention to be held here next week.

He says a careful estimate shows 64 Hearst delegates elected to the state convention to 295 anti-Hearst. He says it is certain that Hamilton and Cuyahoga counties, with a total of 108 delegates, will send anti-Hearst men to the convention, making it practically certain that the Hearst opposition will have 405 votes or 41 more than a majority of the state convention.

Chicago to Issue Bonds.

CHICAGO, May 17.—The Chicago city council has passed an ordinance directing the city controller to advertise for bids for sale of $5,500,000 of bonds, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the liquidation of judgments against the city.

CHILDHOOD'S SAINT ATTACKED

Santa Claus Myth Teaches Children to Be Deceitful, Says St. Louis Minister.

Santa Claus is a myth and an abomination, and ought to be put on the shelf, according to Rev. Dr. S. H. Ford of St. Louis, who delivered an address Monday before the Southern Baptist convention at Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. Ford spoke vigorously against the practice of teaching children to believe in the existence of Santa Claus, and said it encourages them to be deceitful. Dr. Ford is 80 years old and lives at Jennings Station. He retired last year, serving as editor of Ford's Christian Repository and Home Circle for 50 years.

Mystery of Cliff Cave.

After an inquest held by Justice John Crecelius of Oakville, the body of an unidentified man, found Sunday morning in the Mississippi at Cliff Cave, has been buried on the river bank. The body was that of a man 40 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighing 175 pounds; hair brown, small mustache; clothing of good quality. No mark of identification was found.

ST. LOUIS INDIANS ENTERTAIN MOQUIS

Big Chief Gazzola and "Cuddy Mack" Show Them the Father of Waters.

PRINCE CATA WAS ASTONISHED

Members of New Mexican Tribe Had Never Seen So Much "Moisture" Before.

While the French were entertaining the world at the Trianon, the editors telling one another how to get out the paper, the women attending to a little politics, and the "farmers" discussing the need of good roads, yet another function, perhaps not as important, yet quite as interesting in its way, was going on.

Two St. Louis Indians were giving two Moqui Indians from the Painted Desert of Arizona, the time of their lives. The Moqui Indians were Princess Magdalena Cata and Prince Fabriano Cata. The St. Louis Indians were Speaker Andrew Gazzolo of the House of Delegates and John J. McGillicuddy, whose name within the tribe is "Cuddy Mack."

The Indians left their tepees to see the sights of the city, and incidentally view the Mississippi river. The Moquis are unused to water, coming from a desert where the greatest flow of the season is from the lachrymal glands. But St. Louis Indians are also unused to water, so it was a stand-off. Both looked down upon the Father of Waters from the Eads bridge and grunted their amazement that there should be so much water running around loose and so little other liquid refreshment.

All the Indians were under the guidance of Maurice Toolin, manager of the Cliff Dwellers at the World's Fair. They drove to the middle of Eads bridge, where they alighted and walked to the rail. Looking down upon the murky waters, the Moquis expressed their astonishment.

Cuddy Mack of the St. Louis tribe waved his hand over the river and said, "Heap wet."

"They don't understand you," said Gozzola. "Much aqua is the thing."

"Moocha awa," cried Cuddy Mack.

"Si, si!" replied the Moquis.

"See what?" asked Cuddy Mack.

"See the water, of course," replied Gazzola. "Take a good look at it when you have the chance."

A steamboat started up the river, and the Moquis cried out in astonishment at the remarkable sight.

"Mucho chu-chu," explained Gazzola.

"Lives on the water," exclaimed Princess Magdalena, poetically.

"How you like?" asked "Cuddy Mack."

"Heap much water, eh?"

"It is indeed a remarkable sight," answered Fabriano. "It is a matter of amazement to me where so much moisture comes from. In our torrid and arid country the smallest spring is a matter of felicitation. Your tribe is indeed to be congratulated."

"Well, I'll be—dog-goned!" exclaimed Cuddy Mack in astonishment. "They speak English almost as well as we can."

Fabriano is an expert snake dancer, and speaks English and Spanish fluently. Magdalina was educated in St. Catherine's school at Santa Fe, N. M.

They are brother and sister. The girl is remarkably pretty for an Indian, and wears a black bang above her jetty eyes. Both dress in regulation Moqui costume of expensive materials. Fabriano's side locks of hair are wound around with elaborately beaded bands, and around the girl's neck are many strands of amber and turquoise beads, and her fingers are covered with beaten gold and silver rings. She wears a scarlet silk shawl over her head, with which she coquettishly covers her face at the many remarks of admiration addressed to her. In the big stores which she visited she was constantly surrounded by women who admired her costume and especially the white buckskin boots, knee-high, which she wears.

CALIFORNIA AGAINST HEARST

The Vote in State Convention was 367 to 345.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., May 16.—The anti Hearst men got first blood in the Democratic state convention in session here when they elected Frank H. Gould temporary chairman over Lieutenant-Governor W. E. Jeter, the Hearst candidae.

The vote was 367 to 345 and every effort was made by the leaders of both sides to line up their men.

Gould's election was brought about by the vote of the San Francisco delegation, which was largely against Jeter.

The struggle today in the convention will come on the adoption of the resolution instructing the delegation to St. Louis to support Hearst. The leaders of the Hearst fight announce that they will make no compromise, but must have an instruced delegation.

FATALLY HURT BY OWL CAR.

World's Fair Employe Struck at Compton Avenue Crossing.

Nichols is employed at the World's Fair. His wife lives in Boston.

AMERICAN AIRS BY ROYAL BAND

"The Gondolier" and "Lazarre Waltzes" Are Leaders in Favor.

The First Royal Marine Band, Emperor William's musical delegation to the World's Fair, have created much popular enthusiasm in this country by their magnificent rendition of the latest popular American airs. Director Louis Kindermann had them play "The Gondolier" and "Lazarre Waltzes" at Detroit, and so successful was the performance and so pleased was Herr Kindermann that he has added these compositions to his program. "The Gondolier" is the well-known catchy intermezzo and two-step, by W. C. Powell, and the "Lazarre Waltzes" are the equally fascinating compositions of H. B. Blanke. These pieces will be heard with delight whenever this splendid band rendersthem at the Exposition.

SENATOR CULLOM DESPOILS WOMAN'S HAT FOR A STRAW

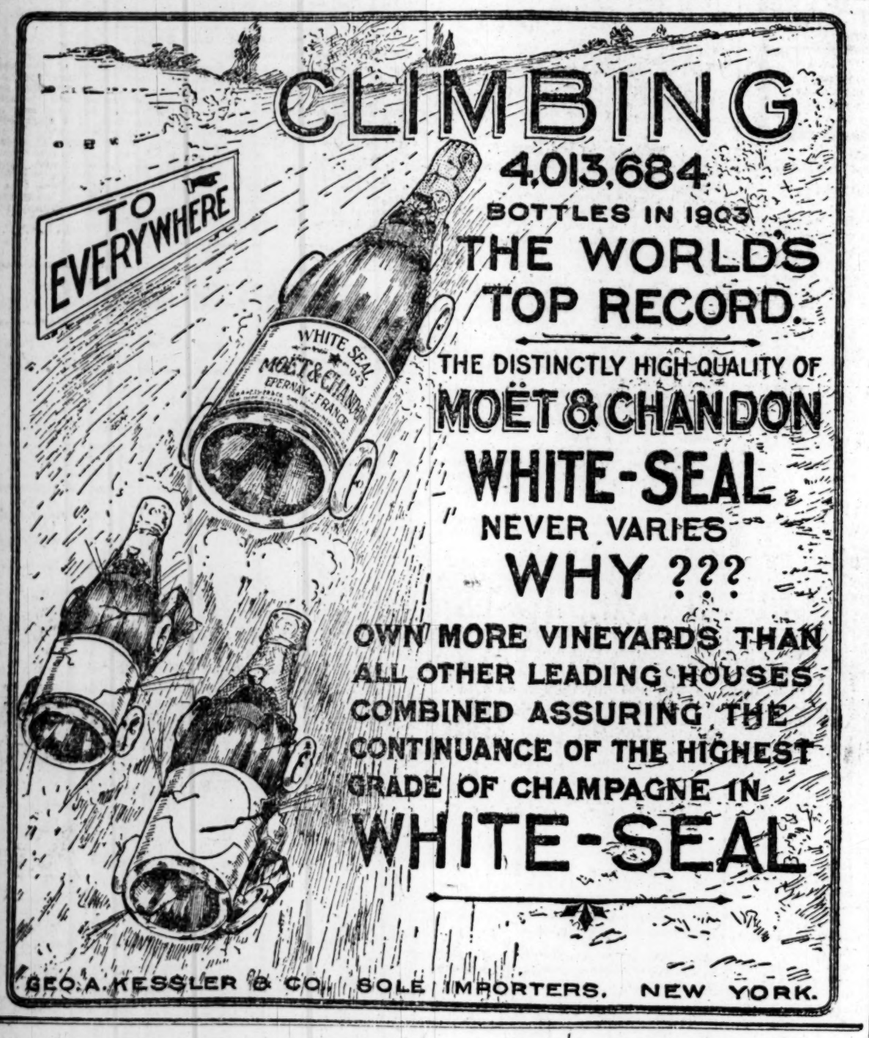

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 17.—Senator Cullom finds it difficult to forget his early agricultural habits. At the Republican convention a woman occupying a seat on the platform took off her hat and laid it on a table near the senator. One of the ornaments on the hat was a large bunch of wheat heads.

While pondering over the numerous roll calls the senator took his penknife from his pocket, cut off four inches of wheat stalks and stuck them between his teeth. The woman rescued her hat before the senator had chewed up the entire ornament.

Mickey to Be Renominated.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 17.—As a preliminary to the Republican state convention, which meets in this city tomorrow, the Roosevelt League of Nebraska will hold its rally here tonight. Several of the state nominations are settled now. Gov. Mickey will be named without opposition, and Congressman Burkett will be nominated for United States senator. There is no contest on the following: Lieutenant-governor, E. G. McGilton; attorney-general, Norris Brown; treasurer, Peter Mortensen.

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."—MRS. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis., Pres. Household Economics Club.

THE PRESS CONGRESS.

It is a felicitous circumstance that the meeting of the National Editorial Association and that of the World's Press Parliament fall in the same week at the same place, which may be called the focus of the world's interests.

More than any other agency the press tends to unify the world. There is no monopoly of thought possible, the press diffusing it impartially to all men without reference to race or station. The newspaper press constitutes a clearing house for civilization, through which passes a knowledge of the best that is said and done.

The congresses this week are admirably adapted to perfect this mission. And by personal communication and exchange of points of view newspaper men can strengthen themselves beyond all calculation for progress and enlightenment. Publicity is the key of progress, the guarantee of enlightenment, and methods of publicity must be the earnest study of every journalist who desires to enlarge and liberalize his ideas and enliven his professional understanding. The opportunity for such study presented by the meetings this week could not be surpassed. Men of the most diverse mental attitudes assemble for an exchange of ideas on equal terms. All will be enriched by such a commerce.

The future is in the keeping of the newspaper press. All the domestic, political and economic questions of the nationalities and the wider proposals looking to peace among the nations—all the the humanizing ideals seeking realization—thees must be worked out in the newspaper press.

It is a trust which cannot be treated cynically or undertaken lightly without proper qualification or adequate preparation. For this reason the meetings this week, collecting, as they do, scattered talents from all over the world for comparison and improvement, must be held of the highest value by all who participate.

The rays of good purpose and laudable endeavor converge at the Fair. In a special sense journalism is this week the heart of the world, the center of all that is most liberal and progressive. It is a thought which cannot but inspire every newspaper man who takes part, either as delegate or spectator.

Census figures show that Chicago had a population of 1,698,575 three years before the opening of her World's Fair. The very highest estimate of St. Louis' population is only 750,000. These facts must be considered when we are talking of local attendance.

COMPARATIVE VALUE OF BOYS AND GIRLS.

In a ruling in a damage case a New Jersey court holds that a boy's life exceeds in value that of a girl—say two to one.

Of course this was on the basis of the probable pecuniary value of life, the only kind of value the law can take note of. The judge said the boy's life would probably be valuable to his parents, because he must become a breadwinner. The girl might become a breadwinner, but there was no certainty about it.

This reflects the facts of 70 years ago with tolerable exactness. And the law coincided with the needs. But how much of truth is there in the assertion now? In poor families does not the daughter contribute as often and as much to the needs of the parents as the son? Even in families withdrawn from the pressing struggle for existence, the daughter's services are as valuable as the son's, when the aid of either is required.

The rule is certainly too rigid for the facts of the twentieth century. On the basis of pecuniary value to the parents, sons and daughters are, in general, equal.

Nobody could tell from Mr. Peers' remark alone whether he belonged to the Democratic party or to the Republican party. Both have numerous patriots who "don't see any harm in a political party making capital out of public offices."

THE GOOD ROADS CONVENTION.

The fact that a thousand members of the National Good Roads Association have met in convention in St. Louis is gratifying evidence of the growth of the good roads movement. These delegates represent every section of the country, and the presence of delegates from abroad shows that the movement is arousing international interest.

The Post-Dispatch is especially gratified at this proof of the success of its work on this line of public service. Its readers have been kept fully informed regarding the movement, and the necessity for good roads, especially to the West and South, has been constantly emphasized in its columns.

As the Post-Dispatch has frequently pointed out, the creation of good roads all over the country will bring increased comfort and welfare to all the people. It will make life easier and brighter for the residents of rural districts, adding largely the profits of the farmers and helping to reduce railroad ...es. By facilitating the exchange of town and country ...ts, it will help the people of the cities. It will spread ...ment and the benefits of modern progress everywhere. All citizens are interested alike in this great movement. ...s now well on the road to success, and during the ...great results will undoubtedly come from the efforts ...o are now devoting time and energy to this field ...

THE OUT-OF-TOWN CORRESPONDENT

BY REUBEN JASPER,
Special World's Fair Correspondent.

To the Editor of the Hayville Herald.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 16.—I sure had a time today—that is, a bad time. It was cold and raining, but as many times as I've chopped cordwood on off days I didn't propose to let a little thing like choppy weather keep me and my hammer away from the World's Fair.

I was dead set on seeing them Iggerots that I had read so much about, who go around with nothing on but a piece of cotton thread tied around the left wrist or a piece of court plaster on one cheek.

So I tramped across the grounds to the cuartel (now, how can you make "kwartel" out of that? yet that's the way you have to pronounce it), and finally managed to get inside, after rubbering for a long time through the cracks between the bamboo poles.

I never was so surprised at a lot of people in my life. Why, them savages haven't got no more modesty about them than some society leaders I've heard about.

The only difference is that they go the sartorial limit, while the said society leaders go as far as they dare.

I got friendly with one of these little brown fellows, and, laying my hand caressingly on his forehead, I said:

"How much is your laundry bill a week?"

REUBEN JASPER TO IG O'ROTTE: HOW MUCH IS YOUR LAUNDRY BILL A WEEK?
(Reproduced from the Hayville Herald.)

The answer he gave me was beyond my comprehension, but from the look he gave me when I made a pointed reference to the clout he wore I am convinced that this humble brother and prospective citizen, voter and officeholder never heard the word laundry before, and hasn't the remotest idea of the significance of washday.

After a while, however, we will civilize him, learn him to drink whisky, "repeat" at elections and bet on the races, and then he will be satisfied with nothing less than standing collars, loud socks and a dollar watch.

But, honest, I don't think it is right to bring these people over here to civilize 'em. Why don't we keep 'em in the Philippines and shoot civilization into 'em over there?

I got so wet today that I think I'll have to go out and get one or two to stave off a cold. Besides, a fellow is liable to get snake-bit out there in Forest Park. More anon.

The Primary Election Law.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The action of Election Commissioner McCaffrey, in refusing the Folk people the right to copy the primary election books, on the 12th of March, was, according to my view of the matter, an arbitrary proceeding and not warranted by law. As I understand the opinion of City Counselor Bates, he simply quotes the law saying that the primary books shall be open to the inspection of any citizen for thirty days. That was not the real issue on the 13th day of March. The construction of the law involved the meaning of inspection which, in my opinion, is synonymous with examination of the books, which carries with it the right to make such copies or memorandum as are necessary to aid the memory, as no man simply inspecting the books can possibly carry in his memory the records of the books in a primary election. The Democratic primaries were held on the 12th of March, and the Republican primaries were held on the 15th of March, consequently the law permitted any citizen to inspect the books until the 15th of April. Suppose, for instance, the Republican primaries had been held 29 days after the Democratic primary, would Judge McCaffrey or City Counselor Bates hold that any citizen did not have the right under the law to inspect the books for 30 days after the Republican primary was held? Certainly, no such narrow construction could be placed upon the law to permit Democrats only to inspect the books of a Democratic primary, and Republicans to inspect the books of a Republican primary, when the same books are used in both primaries. There were gross frauds perpetrated in the Democratic primary of March 12, in which hundreds of Republican names were marked voted. These frauds were not ascertained until the books were turned over to the Republicans, and when these Republicans whose names were marked voted in the Democratic primary attempted to vote, they found that they had already been voted in a Democratic primary. The law plainly gives the right to any citizen to inspect the books thirty days after the primary, and, of course, that means the last primary. No honest man objects to the examination of the primary election books to ascertain whether he was properly voted. It is only the fraudulent votes which seek to be hidden from public view.

The primary election law should be amended so that books could be open for inspection not only for thirty days but for thirty years. Democrats are getting very tired of technicalities which are taken advantage of to defeat justice.

Nero had just introduced Juvenal to Horace.

"I want you to know him," Nero was saying, "because he is a particular friend of mine."

"If he's a friend of yours," said Juvenal, with all the bitterness he could summon, "he can't be so blamed particular."

Nero never forgave him the thrust.

"Can you tell me," said Eve, "why I am a summer girl?"

"Little Eva," said Adam, who was interlocutor, and, it may be added, the whole show, "you ask me why you are a summer girl. I do not know why you are a summer girl. Why are you a summer girl?"

"I am a summer girl," said the original sinner, "because I am just before the fall." Saying which she prepared to fix apple sauce for supper.

The Japaneses Anthem.

From the London Globe.

At a musical evening last week a singer was requested by an extremely sedate looking individual to oblige with the Japanese national anthem. It was explained to him by the serious one that the tune was the same as the British national anthem, and that all he had to do was to pronounce the Japanese words provided for him on sheet of paper, precisely as they were spelled. Accordingly up rose the willing warbler and burst out with the following lyric:

O wa ta na syam,
An a svam.

He was only pulled up by roars of delighted laughter from continuing the confession. There was no encore.

The Municipal Enterprises of Freiburg

Edward Rumley in The Pilgrim for May.

ON THE edge of the Black Forest, midway between Strassburg and Basel, with a view sweeping the rich Rhein valley as far as the rugged outline of Vosegen is the City of Freiburg. At a great natural gateway to the more inaccessible parts of the country beyond, since the midle ages when it was founded, it has been famous as a place of trade. In many respects, it early history is that of the typical South German town. Its merchants, in spite of continuous warfare with their nobic neighbors grew rich and prosperous and built great substantial houses with carved stone fronts and wrought-iron transoms. The university had its roll of distinguished pupils before the discovery of America. Master Masons and stonecutters were sent from here all over the neighboring parts of Europe, and the delicate frost-like beauty of the cathedral at Milan and the intricate tracery of the west front at Strassburg testify to the skill of their work. At home also they were not idle and in the center of the market place arose a great church of red sandstone. Although reflecting the various styles of architecture that came and went during the four hundred years that passed from the time when its corner-stone was laid until the last vault in the choir was finished, it is nevertheless always graceful and never inharmonious.

But today, interesting as the old side of Freiburg may be to the esthete and student it is not for this reason that this comparatively small town of about sixty thousand inhabitants is occupying such an important position in the eyes of other and larger cities. The eminent success with which its citizens own and manage those affairs of common interest, which are as a rule given over into the hands of corporations, is causing the Frieburger system to be discussed in the city councils of such places as Berlin and Hamburg.

A walk through the main streets of the town causes an American to open his eyes with astonishment. He sees electric cars of the latest pattern, with every device for comfort and safety, running on a basis of less than two and a half cents within the city limits. He will look in vain on exterior or interior for any sign of an owning company other than the red cross of the city's coat of arms. Tracks, rolling stock and motive power are all public property, and the neatly uniformed conductor, who takes your fare and wishes you good-day at the same time is a city official. On all the principal streets and especially in the neighborhood of schools, he will notice electric clocks giving the standard time. These are operated from a central station in the city hall and are made self-supporting by selling the connection to factory managers and business men who desire exact time. He will read the advertisements and telegrams off a city bulletin column, will take his meals at the city dining-rooms, dinner six and a half cents, supper five and coffee and bread two and a half, and in so doing will get well-cooked food and as much as he can eat. In short if he keeps his eyes open he will find that the city takes the little Freiburger as a boy, educates him, amuses him at the city theater, lodges him comfortably and cheaply in a city house, lends him money when in need from the municipal pawn shops, takes care of his savings in its bank, and finally when he dies buries him by the city undertaker in the city graveyard. He will notice that the people speak of "our" town, "our" streets, "our" public library and "our" new theater which "we" are going to build, and that all these things are accomplished quite as a matter of course without the world being turned upside down "and private property and the home destroyed."

SOMETHING DOING IN THE COUNTRY

We have been completely swamped with job work the past week, but are getting our heads out at last. Have not had over two or three hours to devote to paper, and it looks like it.—Ozark Republican.

The editor has been so rushed
By printing bills and dodgers
For merchants who thus advertise—
They are peculiar codgers—
He hasn't had a bit of time
To gather up the news
For his four hundred readers down

And hence the doughy dough
He's raking in by fistfulls, for
He'll need it here, you know.
No wonder that he thus confesses
Devotion to his big job presses.

Just a Minute
With the
Post-Dispatch
RHYMERS AND JOKERS.

Exit Spring.

We used to sing
Of balmy spring
In merriest of measures,
For every day
Made life more gay,
And multiplied its pleasures.

Oh, it was good
In leafy wood
To sing about the breezes
That softly blew
All day long through
The gently swaying treeses.

Of carmine blooms
And rich perfumes
And lilac bushes waving
We used to write,
For oh, the sight
Set all the Muses raving!

But now, gee whizz!
There seldom is
The slightest inspiration
To pipe a lay
Of merry May
And earth's rejuvenation.

Nay, for it seems,
The way the streams
By cold, wet rains are swollen,
That gentle spring,
Robbed of its fling,
Is lost or strayed or stolen.

A Bachelor to the Rescue.

It is passing strange that Judge William Jefferson Pollard of St. Louis, whose rulings have always had the effect of lightening the burdens of the fair sex, and who is much admired by the gentler portion of humanity in consequence, should have remained a bachelor to this day.

While Judge Pollard may be called a past master of that judicial diplomacy which enables him to settle amicably the difficulties between husbands and wives who have been haled into his court, the unmarried women, too, have reason to bless his name because of his recent ukase that "eleven oclock is late enough for any young man to stay with his sweetheart."

What girl, remembering the suppressed yawns, the increasing pallor and the utter weariness of mind and body when 11 o'clock, 11:30 and finally midnight came and still no signs of going on Charlie's part—what girl, we say, remembering these things, is not thankful to the utmost that there is one jurist in our midst who has the thoughtfulness and the courage to declare that the chiming of the hall clock at 11 p. m. shall be recognized as a curfew bell by all lovers, and that if they linger beyond that hour "the old man" shall have the right to eject them by whatsoever means may be deemed necessary or advisable, and that he shall not be disciplined by the law in consequence?

If ever a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Young Women shall be formed in this country the top of the ticket should read:

"For president, Judge William Jefferson Pollard of St. Louis."

Another man has been "miraculously saved from death." This makes the third in St. Louis inside of a week. Yet some say the day of miracles is past.

Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Bass.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

While many papers are censuring Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice and sympathizing with the troubles of "Mrs. Wiggs," a word on the other side is timely. The public that hints at "a division of the spoils" and expresses its horror at the invasion of the old woman's "castle" should be made acquainted with some truths not hitherto printed. It needs to be informed that for years—for ten years at least before Mrs. Rice ever thought of writing her book—the author and her family have helped Mrs. Bass in whatever trouble of mind, body or estate she has found herself. That Mrs. Bass was merely a succes fou to genius and not the whole of the character is proved by her own actions, which show none of the merry optimism attributed to the celebrated personage of the cabbage patch. The old lady would never have known she had been "writ up in a book"—so composite is the creation—had not some outsiders, recognizing the scene of the tale and some of her sayings, told her. The pictures in the papers came from Mrs. Bass herself. One editor suggests that Mrs. Rice should be made to pay the fines in court, another that she be "made an example of"—just how he doesnt say; hundreds of papers have taken the matter up, and not one has done Mrs. Rice justice. To and not one has done Mrs. Rice justice. To all of these a few words must be said: Some of her friends know a few points that Mrs. Rice herself never mentions. They know that shortly after her big royalties began to flow in, Mrs. Bass came into possession of a nice bank account; they know that from the moment Mrs. Bass began to suffer from a too curious public Mrs. Rice and her family offered to bear all the trouble and expense of a move to an entirely new neighborhood, but, preferring her cabbage patch, Mrs. Bass declined. They know that from the first Mrs. Rice has sympathized with Mrs. Bass in her attitude toward her persecutors and has gone to great lengths to shield and protect her.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

DANGEROUS BRUTES.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Cannot we cycle without being set upon by dangerous dogs? Passing through Woodson road, St. Louis County, I was set upon by two ferocious dogs owned by residents of that locality, and only by managing to keep mounted on wheel on a very bad road, did I narrowly escape, after a mile, with these two unwelcome brutes pursuing. Fine these owners to the limit.

BELLEFONTAINE AND CHEROKEE CARS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The service of the St. Louis Transit Company in regard to the Bellefontaine and Cherokee cars is very unsatisfactory. I wait from 20 to 30, and sometimes 50, minutes for a car every evening.

If the company would run their cars more regularly in North St. Louis, it would be appreciated by the people of the north end of the city. NORTH END.

IF CAUGHT BETWEEN CARS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A good deal is being said lately about persons getting caught between passing cars, and as it is something I have thought over a great deal and wondered if I would retain my presence of mind to carry out my plan of safety. It occurred to me to suggest through your columns to Capt. McColloch that he instruct his motormen to cry out to anyone about to be caught between the cars to fall down flat between the rails and lie still until the cars pass. PATRON.

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Referring to the notice published in your paper of Saturday, May 14, regarding inauguration of the Spanish ball game, beg to correct the statement in which it is claimed that the game as it is going to be played on Sunday the 15th, was the "first professional performance ever given in America."

This is not the case; the game in question has been played in South America, Cuba and Mexico for the last five or six years, by groups of the most notable players of Spain, and to refer only to Mexico, not less than four "frontones" have been erected, i. e., the Jai-Alai, Eder-Jai, Euscalduna and Fronton Nacional, and just at present the game is played by the most prominent sporting members of both the Mexican and foreign residents with the same skill as the professionals, whom they have on several occasions defeated.

SANS SOUCI.

A SATISFIED GAS USER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Have you ever been at the complaint department of the gas company? If so, you have undoubtedly heard the numerous absurd complaints on a so-called "high bill." Do we use gas as economically as we might? Your answer, of course, will be yes. So was mine. Seems to me very unreasonable for any one to stand at the complaint counter and tell the clerk that their bill this month is too large, or far in excess of the prior month. Even heard one party complain of a difference of 20 cents. If these people would economize in their usage of gas they would have smaller bills. Suppose you or your servants have burned more gas than you really think you have, or the latter (which is often the case), has, without your knowledge of the fact, wasted some. In other words, used it unnecessarily. Then does it not seem entirely wrong and unjust for you to complain to the company for your own household's neglect and carelessness?

D. O. C.—We have answered your question once, and the stamp language has been repeatedly published in this column.

D. R. E.—It is not a serge light, but a search light, and was flashed from a building just outside the World's Fair grounds.

FREDERICKTOWN.—The recent loan by Congress is the only loan by the government to the World's Fair. The other aid it has given the Fair has been in the way of appropriations and exhibits.

M. X. A.—To strengthen tender feet, wet them with alum water at night. For odor, bathe feet in tepid water twice a day. After drying thoroughly, dust them with a powder composed of salicilic acid 1 dram, oxide of zinc, 1 ounce, lycopodium 1 ounce.

PETE.—We have a number of national songs, but there is no national authority which has determined "which is our genuine national song." For cold in the head you might use with an atomizer every hour: 10 grains menthol, 10 grains eucalyptol and 2 ounces liquid alboiene. Try sulphur and molasses, a teaspoonful or more, night and morning, for pimples.

MISS A.—There would be nothing improper in inviting to board at your home a gentleman who has, in years past, been one of your boarders, provided he comes as any other boarder would come. There have been happy marriages where the wife was older than the husband, but it is common to advise against such marriages. We cannot undertake to give advice in matrimonial matters. Infinite wisdom would be necessary. August 17, 1865, was Thursday.

READER.—You can make a cheap floor wax by dissolving ceresine wax or purified ozokerite in kerosene in a water bath or on a hot plate, but you must not use an open fire. Paraffine wax alone will not make a good polish, at least it will not remain well in solution and tends to crumble on application. Another cheap floor wax may be prepared by dissolving one pound of potash in ten pints of water, heating it to boiling, when one pound of yellow beeswax is added in small shreds and all boiled until the wax has melted, then one-quarter pound annatto is added for color. This last wax is used largely for dancing floors in Europe, and is applied cold in the usual manner, while the kerosene wax should be warmed in a water bath and so applied.

ADVICE TO STONE.

From the Middleton, Mo., Chips.

Senator Stone had better grab a plank and let Missouri save herself.

MAKING USE OF COCKRELL.

From the Chillicothe, Mo., Constitution.

Has it come to this, that the once powerful Bill Stone must hang on to the coat tail of Grandpa Cockrell in order to get a seat in the national convention? It has come to pass that Old Man Cockrell covers a multitude of political sins in Missouri.

OPENING GUN OF 1904'S BATTLE.

From Leslie's Weekly.

On June 6 Oregon will elect minor state officers and two members of the Congress whose official life will begin on March 4, 1905. These will be the first members of that body to be chosen this year. As the division on congressmen will be on national issues, the result will show the direction and the strength of the partisan currents on the Pacific coast, and, in a general way throughout the country, just in advance of the presidential canvass. For that reason the Oregon election will attract national attention.

THE FARMER AND HIS PLOW.

From the Kansas City Star.

A farmer votes for protection. In turn the manufacturers of American plows combine and advance the price of their product. The farmer pays an excessive price for his plow—probably a third more than it should cost him. The manufacturers may have a surplus of stock. This is exported. But it cannot be sold in foreign markets at the domestic price, especially in free trade markets. But it does not need to be sold at that price. Its manufacture is so cheap, especially under solidated operation, that the freight to South America can be paid and the plow may still be sold there below the home price, and vastly lower than the American price—although the latter is not affected by marine freight charges. The farmer may honestly believe in protection, but that does not alter the fact that all the benefits go to the manufacurer of the plow, and the farmer pays them.

THE MEXICAN SUCCESSION.

From the New York World.

Mexico is at last to have a Vice-President.

In the experience of South and Central Americans the chief use of a Vice-President has been to lead the current revolution against the President. Perhaps that is why Mexico has never had one.

But Diaz is getting old. He was President from 1877 to 1880, and the power behind Gonzales' feeble administration for the next four years. Beginning again in 1884, Diaz has been President for 20 years "straight."

In this total of 27 years of power Mexico has become modern. All its railways have been built in that time, its prosperity has greatly augumented. But Diaz is old.

At his death, which may not be long delayed, Mexico wishes to avoid any possibility of trouble by having a Vice-President in office. It is understood that he will succeed to the power when occasion shall be, and if satisfactory will be re-elected indefinitely.

The official "promulgation" of the constitutional amendment creating the office of Vice-President will soon take place. The city council will go in open carriage and put up posters containing the amendment on the street corners. An army corps will parade the streets to prevent any disturbance. After that the election.

It is not much like the ways of the United States.

SIDE LIGHTS ON THE FAIR.

BY ROSE MARION

FORGIVENESS is a plant that grows tall in Oklahoma. For instance: Titles and honors were not always the property of Gov. Ferguson of that state-that-is-to-be. Not many presidential elections ago he was editor of a paper in Watonga. He still owns the paper, but I don't know whether he still writes its editorials.

The circulation of that paper was not great, neither was the number of its pages. Its work was of the best. No one touched it except the editor and his wife. They set their own type and read their own copy.

The office was not large, it was the front part of the Ferguson home. When the paper was out, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson put away the type, set the press aside and rested.

Next door was a saloon, a real Western saloon, noisy day and night. Editor Ferguson liked not the saloon. With his editorial pen he dealt it hard blows by writing strong words concerning those who visited the saloon. He spared none. Among those he said things about were Deputy United States Marshal Hines and an Indian farmer named Bland. (By Indian farmer I don't mean an Indian that farms, but a white man sent from Washington to teach Indians agricultural facts they don't want to learn.)

Effective was the work of the editor—his house was fired one night. Who do you suppose saw it and put out the flames and saved the press?

The deputy marshal and the Indian farmer.

Wouldn't you like to live in Oklahoma?

PAST the Plaza of Orleans they were walking. New Jersey was the name of the state printed on their press badges. With them was a St. Louis man serving as a guide. He showed them the Varied Industries building and the Palace of Liberal Arts. Their attention was given to the columns that were placed in position for dedication day on the plaza and were considered so beautiful by some powers that their lives were extended through the Exposition period despite the displeasure of M. Masqueray.

Each column bears united honor to Napoleon and Jefferson by a monogram of the letters N and J. They looked so familiar to the visitors of the Mosquito State that they stopped in their walk to look questioningly at the columns. The St. Louis man was ready with an answer.

"Those columns were erected out of special honor to New Jersey," said he. "The management was so pleased with the exhibit made by your state that it paid her tribute in that way."

The New Jersey delegation walked proudly, very proudly, toward the lagoons.

IT WAS a Saturday night Pike crowd. Large as to size, happy as to state of mind and in for all the fun going.

Talking to a chunk of this crowd was a Pike show barker. Surrounded was he by part of the show for which he barked. The free exhibition looked interesting and the crowd chunk increased in size.

The barker enlarged upon the wonders of his show. Much did he say of "this most mysterious people and its strange customs."

The chunk listened closely. The barker continued, "and this show is strictly moral. It is historical, educational and ethnological."

But the crowd had decreased to a crumb. The "icals" proved too much.

Who wants to be educated in history and ethnology on the Pike?

DO YOU like wonder pictures? You can see them in the Austro-Hungarian pavilion. I've been running in there ever since the pictures came. I watched them when they were being unwrapped, while they were just hanging around waiting to be hung, and now that they are actually in their places I dodge around among work and workmen until I get within the art room. Then I do my wondering.

One of the wonder pictures is that of a Polish actress. She looks out at all who enter the room with big brown eyes. Truly speaking, the look is for her audience, which has no place in the picture. Her draperies have roses worked in them, and in her hand she holds a bouquet. It is a strangely assorted bouquet—carnations, violets and roses, with a long sprig of green. Looking at her from a box are three men. The one with the red hair is a representation of the maker of the picture, Josef Mahoffer.

On their faces is admiration. The face of the actress does not tell much.

Somehow my fancy is that she is one of Poland's country girls who has told the story of womanhood so well upon the stage that she has won much fame. That fame has gone back to her little village. Those that love her there cannot send her great piles of American beauties, but they send her that which they can—the violets and the carnations, the sprig of green and the roses. With them they send memories of that home. Which memories make the look that gives me wonder.

EDUCATIONAL exhibits as shown by Germany don't stop at reading, writing and arithmetic. That's the country where they go down to the very depths of all in which they interest themselves.

Germany, when it has a schoolhouse, thinks not only of the teachers and pupils and superintendents and probable visitors, it gives thought to the janitor. Know what's the finest thing they have in that line? Schoolroom equipment, desks, seats and racks, that can be raised to the ceiling when school is out and they who sweep won't have to bother about the little corners under the desks.

There won't be any mark left on the floor after it has been scrubbed because the desk feet stick out of the way and do not quarrel with the scrubbing brushes. Paper balls can't play hide-and-seek with broom straws. Chewing gum will even have hard work holding on to the floor—that is, if the good little boys and girls of the Vaterland work their jaws over that sticky stuff.

There's only one thing that suggests work: What if the machinery should break and the school desks should play the avalanche for the poor janitor?

Archbishop Ryan Has Returned.

After a 10-days' visint as the guest of Archbishop Glennon, the Most Rev. Patrick J. Ryan, archbishop of Philadelphia, left for his home Monday night. Archbishop Ryan may return to St. Louis in the fall, when Cardinals Gibbons and Satoli will be here.

FRANCIS WILL HAVE SOCIAL SECRETARY

Trying To Keep His Dates Straight Too Much for Busy President.

A master of ceremonies for President Francis, who will decide all questions of rank and precedence at public functions during the World's Fair, is to be appointed by the executive committee of the Exposition. The selection has not been made, but the name of Allen V. Cockrell, who has been the World's Fair representative at Washington and who is familiar with the social usages prevailing at the nation's capital, is being considered.

One of the new official's chief duties aside from deciding questions of precedence will be to make arrangements for all of President Francis' public appearances and to avoid conflicting dates.

Monday morning President Francis was scheduled to welcome the members of the National Editorial Association in the Hall of Congresses at the World's Fair. At 10 o'clock he was expected to welcome M. Jusserand, the French Ambassador at the headquarters of the French Commission on Lindell boulevard. The result was that the editors had to wait two hours though the chief of the Exposition used all speed possible.

Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock President Francis is expected to be at a reception given in his honor at the French Commission headquarters. At the same hour he is supposed to be standing in the receiving line in the Missouri building at the reception to visiting newspaper men.

The task of being two places at once is too great for President Francis, so the new master of ceremonies will get to work as soon as the selection is made, and prevent further conflict in dates.

But it will be on questions of rank and social precedence that the new official will have his powers most fully tested. The Igorrote and Moro chiefs are said to cherish ideas as to who shall march first in the village processions, while the Indians are the most stringent sticklers for social etiquette on the continent, but while their griefs will be told to other ears, President Francis' new assistant will have others equally poignant which will need all the diplomatic balm he can provide.

Prince Arisugawa, second in rank only to the crown prince of Japan, will be a guest of the World's Fair this summer; Prince Pu Lun is coming back, Prince Henry of Prussia, the crown prince of Portugal, a member of the royal family of Austria, and even the King of Belgium are among those mentioned as possible guests before December 1.

This week, Secretary of State Hay, Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, Gov. Dockery, Sir Hugh Gilzean-Reid, not to mention United States senators and others of political prominence, are in St. Louis and their appearance at any public function must always be preceded by a nice arrangement in matters of rank and preference.

The new master of ceremonies will probably arrive as soon as possible after his appointment. President Francis wishes he were here now.

FILIPINO WORKMEN INJURED

Two Fall With Scaffolding and One Is Badly Hurt.

Itilong Alberto and Ludan Viiente, members of Company B of the Philippine constabulary at the World's Fair, were hurt by a fall from the roof of the hospital building on the Philippine reservation Tuesday. It is possible that Alberto's back is broken, and his condition is serious. Viiente is not badly hurt.

The scaffolding on which the men were working gave way, and they fell among the timbers on the ground. They were taken to the temporary hospital in the cuartel.

Health in the Lime Fruit

Besides making the most delicious beverage, the juice of the lime contains well known medicinal properties. It tones the stomach, aids digestion, invigorates and acts as a gentle tonic to the whole system.

FUNNY SIDE OF THE FAIR

THOMAS CRUSE of Helena, Mont., is at the Buckingham with his family.

He is credited with being a rival of United States Senator William A. Clark for the distinction of being Montana's richest citizen.

However that may be, Mr. Cruse is an exceedingly wealthy man.

At the hotel, or, rather "club," clerks and attaches endeavor to treat the Cruses with all the courtesies and attentions befitting persons of their wealth.

Miss Cruse called for her mail one morning this week and as the clerk was about to hand several letters to her, he bethought himself of the ethics of the establishment and dropped the missives on a silver tray before presenting them.

To his surprise, Miss Cruse said in taking the mail:

"That is altogether unnecessary. Hereafter, just hand me my mail direct without all that formality."

SEVERAL of the foreign commissioners have expressed a desire, unofficially, that the Exposition management supply them with a gold or silver button that they may wear on their coat lapels and which will entitle them to admission at any of the gates.

At all previous Expositions, they say, foreign commissioners have been extended this courtesy. Here they are compelled to present a card, just like anybody else, for the inspection of the gatekeepers. Sometimes, they are also required to write their names to satisfy the gatekeepers that they are the persons entitled to hold the card.

M. Carlier, the Belgian commissioner, and Commandatore Branchi, Italy's representative, have been heard to complain of the "red tape" that has required them to sign not only their names, but the number of their pass each time they enter the grounds.

THE dainty maidens who preside over the mineral water stands at various parts of the grounds are the latest to register a "kick" on the rules that govern their official actions.

They have been informed that they will be allowed to remain at one stand only a few weeks, and that they will be transferred, like Clarence the Cop, from one pavilion to another during the Exposition season.

"They say it is because they want us to get a glimpse of the whole Fair," one pouting damsel declared, "but I think the real reason is that the managers are afraid we will get too well acquainted with the young men if we stay too long, in one place."

Whether there is any truth in the latter theory, it is a fact that the mineral water pavilion attracted many youths daily even before the water was placed on sale.

THE most gorgeous policeman St. Louis ever knew now parades about the corridors and the terraces of the Buckingham Club.

He is a six-footer, smooth-faced and good looking. But it is not his height or his pulchritude that makes him gorgeous. It's his uniform.

Instead of the official blue of Chief Kiely's men, his uniform is of maroon, or grape color, as some persons prefer to describe it.

It is trimmed in black. The word "policeman" is fastened to the cap in gilt letters. The entire corps of bellboys, porters and attendants generally wear a livery of similar hue.

The policeman, however, is the "hit" of the combination. Every one turns and looks a second time when he appears. Detective Cordell of Chief Desmond's staff, who is frequently at the Buckingham these days as Secretary Hay's special guardian, spends all his leisure time gazing at the grape-colored policeman.

PET PUP LACKS PEDIGREE AND IGORROTES GET HIM

H. C. Cooper, dealer in dogs, of 611 South Sixth street, has an idea that pups are good things with which to drum up trade. He sold two dogs for $2 to Capt. S. C. Clark, purchasing agent of the Filipino reservation, a couple of days ago, and was sor well pleased with the transaction and with the assurance he received that more of the same kind would be taken at the same price, that Monday afternoon he appeared at the cuartel with a limpid-eyed water spaniel pup, which he begged Capt. Clark to accept.

"But I am not a dog eater," protested Capt. Clark.

"Certainly not," said the dog merchant. "He is not intended to be eaten. You can have him for a pet."

Capt. Clark was too polite to tell the man that a pup is the last thing on four legs that he would wish to acquire for a pet. He thanked the merchant cordially and Cooper went away happy.

Capt. Clark looked at the pup and the pup looked at Capt. Clark. "You to the Igorrotes," said Capt. Clark. "I can't use you."

The infant Carlo was sent over to Gov. Hunt.

M. R. Williams, Capt. Clark's secretary, came in and heard the captain say something about a pup.

"What pup?" asked Mr. Williams.

"O, a sleepy little beast that man Cooper brought out here and unloaded on me for a pet," said Capt. Clark.

"Why, that's the pup he promised me," said Mr. Williams. "I went all the way downtown to get it, but he wasn't at home. Where is it?"

"Igorrotes."

Mr. Williams dashed out of the cuartel and was at Gov. Hunt's headquarters in about a minute. He found an Igorrote youth fondling the pup and debating whether to fry or roast him.

Mr. Williams rescued the pup, but after looking him over had doubts about his pedigree and decided to let the Igorrotes keep him.

Obituary.

Sacred to the memory of our beloved mother, Margaret Matter (nee Fath). Died May 17, 1902, aged 49 years 4 months 17 days. A precious one from us has gone, who died two years ago today.

O, darling mother, how we miss you
None but us can tell,
But God who loved you better
Has taken you home to dwell.
You are gone but not forgotten,
Your memory shall never fade;
Lonely hearts shall always linger
Around where our dear mother lay.

From LOVING CHILDREN.

CORTELYOU SLATED TO BE HANNA'S SUCCESSOR

President Roosevelt Favors the Selection of the Former Stenographer and Recently Appointed Cabinet Officer for Leadership of the Coming Republican Campaign.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—President Roosevelt favors the selection of secretary of the department of commerce for chairman of the Republican national committee.

The suggestion is proving popular with the national committeemen, who have been greatly troubled about filling the place made vacant by Senator Hanna's death. For weeks the job has been going begging. Those who were favorably mentioned for it refused; and those who sought the place were discarded.

Appreciation of the careful fight that is to be made this year has made the committeemen especially cautious in deciding. While they have not decided upon Mr. Cortelyou, the instant favor with which the suggestion of his name met, looks much like he would be selected.

Mr. Cortelyou has the complete confidence of President Roosevelt, as he has of the other leading men of the country. He came into public life in 1895 when President Cleveland appointed him executive clerk and confidential stenographer. When Mr. Cleveland retired, Cortelyou remained under President McKinley and was later made private secretary. He was with the President when he was fatally shot in Buffalo. Mr. Cortelyou was given much credit for his management of affairs after President McKinley was wounded. He continued as secretary to President Roosevelt until appointed to organize the new department as a cabinet officer.

Mr. Cortelyou is 42 years old. His education was liberal. After his graduation from Hempstead Institute, he took up special study of music and geography. He then began teaching, and took a course in the New York Hospital to fit himself as expert medical stenographer, and reported many cases as such. In 1889 he became private secretary to the postoffice inspector in charge at New York and from there to a similar position with the fourth assistant postmaster general in Washington. From that office he went to President Cleveland's service.

If he should be elected national chairman he would resign his position in the cabinet and devote his entire time to the work of the campaign. In a measure this would involve a personal sacrifice.

It is asserted with emphasis that no absolute decision yet has been reached, but prominent men in the councils of the Republican party have impressed on the President the desirability of Secretary Cortelyou's selection. It is reasonably certain that J. W. Blythe of Iowa will be prominently identified with the conduct of the Republican campaign in the West.

Cornelius N. Bliss of New York, for many years treasurer of the national committee, probably will again fill that position.

WHITNEY'S CHILDREN HAD OTHER PLANS

None Cared to Live in the Handsome City Home in New York.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Through the appointment of the Morton Trust Co. as special guardian of Dorothy Whitney yesterday the first step was taken by which James Henry Smith will shortly come into possession of the magnificent city home of the late William C. Whitney.

The purchase of the Whitney house at Sixty-eighth street and Fifth avenue has been practicaly completed by Mr. Smith as all interested have agreed to the sale, and it only remains to complete the necessary legal formalities required under the will of Mr. Whitney.

The Morton Trust Co. was named by Justice Bischoff in the Supreme Court in proceedings instituted by her brother, Harry Payne Whitney, to obtain authority from the court for the sale of the dwelling, and it is thought that within a few days the necessary forms will have been complied with and the property will then pass into the possession of Mr. Smith.

The will of Mr. Whitnqey provided that the house should remain in the possession of his daughter, Dorothy, for two years, at the end of which time it was to become part of the residuary estate. The will also stated that the two stepchildren of the testator, Adelaide and Bertie Randolph, should make their home in the house.

It developed very shortly after the death of Mr. Whitney, however, that the arrangements he had for his daughter and stepchildren did not meet with their approval. Because of the associations connected with the house which continually reminded them of the happier days spent there when Mr. Whitney was living, it was soon decided that it would be much more agreeable for all of them to dispose of the house and adjust their lives along other lines than those provided by Mr. Whitney. Miss Dorothy Whitney has arranged to go abroad to complete her education, and the two stepchildren have other plans than those contemplated by Mr. Whitney.

Most Magnificent Dwelling in New York.

The offer from Mr. Smith for the house was one that was favorably regarded by Harry Payne Whitney and his sister, and the two step-children of Mrs. Whitney, and it was decided at once to accept it. The provision in the will, it was found, could be waived by the consent of all concerned, and the preliminary steps to precure legal authority to make the sale were made yesterday.

Mr. Smith will become the owner of what is regarded as the most magnificent dwelling in the City of New York by the purchase of this house, the very walls and ceilings of which are formed of sections of old European palaces and the furniture of which has been brought together from a hundred different sources, although retaining perfectly the central idea of a dwelling of the early Italian renaissance.

In his petition for the appointment of a guardian Harry Payne Whitney set forth that it is for the best interests of his sister, stepsister and stepbrother that the house should be sold, as it is such a valuable piece of property that it would be impossible to rent it, and that even if rented it would be impossible to obtain a rent commensurate with its value.

Mr. Whitney stated that an advantageous offer had been received, the sum offered exceeding $1,300,000, and that as his sister and stepbrother and stepsister have no desire to live there, the sale will prove vastly more to their advantage than keeping the house in their possession for two years, as provided by his father's will. Miss Whitney, he states, is at present living with him and intends shortly to leave for Europe, where she will remain for several years.

It is also stated that Miss Whitney's income under her father's will is $150,000 per annum, although she has little other property besides her interest in the estate.

The personal property conveyed by Mr. Whitney's will is in excess of $10,000,000, Harry Payne Whitney asserts, and the real estate is valued at $750,000 outside of the house on Fifth avenue.

WOMAN SEIZED BY NURSE AS LUNATIC

Mistake Causes Effort to Take Officer's Wife to Asylum—She Is Made Ill.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., May 17.—Mrs. George D. Atwell, wife of Detective Atwell, of the Mount Vernon Police Department, is under the care of the family physician at her home tonight, suffering from a shock caused by a nurse from the Hudson River State Hospital for the Insane, at Poughkeepsie, mistaking her for a lunatic today and endeavoring to drag her from her home to the asylum.

Mrs. Atwell fought the nurse for half an hour, and the combined efforts of John Dillion, a boarder, and Mrs. Milen, a neighbor, succeeded in convincing the nurse that it was a case of mistaken identity.

Sergt. Clark found a negro woman, Lulu Hartless, wandering the streets of the city last Saturday. She was taken to the Mount Vernon Hospital. Yesterday Detective Atwell appeared before Mr. Collins, the court clerk, and made a complaint against the woman, and she was declared insane today. When the nurse from the Hudson River State Hospital received the commitment papers from Mr. Collins, she started for Detective Atwell's home, mistaking the name of the complainant for that of the patient.

At the Atwell home the nurse inquired if Mrs. Atwell was there. Mrs. Atwell answered the door bell and said she was the person wanted.

"Hurry up and dress yourself; you have to go to the hospital with me," said the nurse.

"To the hospital?" said Mrs. Atwell. "You must be mistaken."

"Hurry up, now," said the nurse, "I want to catch the next train from Yonkers."

Mrs. Atwell did not hurry quick enough. The nurse took her child away from her and attempted to place her hat and coat on.

Just then John Dillion, a boarder, went to the rescue. Detective Atwell, who was at court in White Plains, was telephoned to. The nurse was gone when he reached home. Detective Atwell said his wife's condition is serious, and he intends to sue the hospital for damages.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Frank Adee, president of the Seawanhaka Boat Club of Brooklyn and vice-president of the Middle States Regatta Association, is dead. He had been identified with amateur boat racing for more than 30 years and won many races in his younger days with the sculls and sweeps.

Cleanliness and Health.

Health Follows Cleanliness If You Use C-N.

When a floor is mopped or scrubbed with soap and water there is always a deposit of soap and dirt, which cakes in the cracks, no matter how careful the rinsing.

This is the very nicest place you can think of for germs and insects to grow and multiply. In fact, it's an ideal home for them.

Always see that there's some C-N in the mopping, scrubbing and cleaning water. It is even more important than soap. The soap cleans, but C-N disinfects. The little collection of soap and sediment in the cracks is harmless if there is C-N in the water, because where C-N is no germs nor insects can exist.

This C-N is especially prepared for household use, and you will have no difficulty in getting it of any dealer. If you once use it for cleaning you will order it thereafter as regularly as you do soap. It's such a help and such a safeguard.

SAVED EACH OTHER, WEDDING FOLLOWS

Girl's Testimony Kept Man From Being Held for Killing Done in Her Presence.

Following the announcement of her engagement at a coroner's inquest investigating the death of Charles E. Cardwell in Alton, last week, Miss Catherine Layton, aged 17, whose testimony saved Marshall Sheff from being held on a murder charge, became the bride of Sheff at the home of her mother, Mrs. Emma Layton, in Alton, Sunday evening.

Sheff killed Cardwell about two weeks ago, his defense being that he fired when Cardwell was trying to murder his wife, his mother-in-law and Miss Layton. He declared that he fired only when Cardwell struck at Miss Layton with a long knife.

The young woman was called to the stand and questioned regarding Sheff's statements. She emphatically confirmed it and blushingly announced that the reason Sheff was determined to save her life was that she had promised to become his wife.

Before the inquest no date for the wedding had been set, but immediately afterwards Miss Layton consented to an early marriage, and the ceremony was performed Sunday.

RUSSO-JAPAN WAR WILL INVOLVE OTHER NATIONS

—Gen. N. A. Miles.

Former Head of Army Says Victories of Mikado's Troops Were to Be Expected.

CANNOT FORETELL OUTCOME

Believes That in the Next Great War the Automobile Will Supplant the Horse.

"I believe the Japanese-Russian war will be a long and disastrous one, and that eventually it will involve other nations," declared Gen. Nelson A. Miles to the Post-Dispatch Tuesday morning.

Gen. Miles spoke at the Good Roads convention today, and incidentally criticized the American cavalry by remarking that "50 per cent of our soldiers are mounted, while in other countries the percentage is only 7 to 10 per cent. We should have more infantry and less cavalry."

The overwhelming victories of the Japanese over the Russians are no surprise to Gen. Miles. He rather expected this development at the start, he said.

"There is no foretelling the outcome of the present conflict.

"Both Japan and Russia are resourceful nations, and either can prolong the war over a period of years, regardless of their successes or defeats.

"In the next great war," continued Gen. Miles, "I believe the automobile will to a large extent supplant the horse. There are now 100,000 automobiles in the United States. The number is increasing rapidly, and their speed is becoming phenomenal. Automobiles can be used on bad roads as well as good ones, as is now evidenced everywhere.

"In half a day an army of 10,000 or 12,000 could be transported 100 miles in automobiles without a great deal of trouble."

REPENTANT YOUTH SENTENCED

Chicken Thief Confesses After Religious Service in Jail

Two years in the penitentiary is the penalty inflicted upon Daniel Gleason, a St. Louis yuoth, for stealing chickens.

Gleason was arrested three months ago, charged with having stolen three chickens from Mrs. Kate Ruhlmann, a neighbor, living at 2735 LaSalle street. He is 21 years old.

Tuesday morning he appeared before Judge McDonald and said he wished to plead guilty and take his sentence. He told the court that he had a good father and mother, and that they had done everything they could to keep him straight. He said that the Sunday services in the jail had made him repentant, and that when he served his prison terms he intended to turn his back upon old associations and make his heart-broken parents the reparation of a complete reformation.

NEW FEDERAL GRANDJURY.

Judge Adams Calls Attention to Get-Rich-Quick Concerns.

The May grandjury is composed as follows: Foreman A. G. Frederick, John S. Bardenheier, F. W. Luyties, Wm. P. Carruthers, Jas. C. Comfort, Frederick H. Ingalls, Chas. M. Skinner, Edgar D. PASTEURIZED MILK FOR CITY INFANTS

New York Philanthropist's Plant Will Be Opened This Week in St. Louis.

St. Louis' milk pasteurising plant, which is being donated free to the city, at a cost of $3000, by Nathan Strauss of New York, is being installed in the St. Louis Provident building, at 1726 North Thirteenth street, by Dr. A. R. Green, who was sent out from New York for the purpose two weeks ago, and the plant will be ready for a public opening the last of this week.

The Strauss gift includes two large filter machines, four wood cooling tanks and 13,000 bottles, and was secured through the request of City Chemist Bernays, who learned that Mr. Strauss was installing a pasteurizing plant in Chicago, and wrote asking the philanthropist to establish one in St. Louis. The milk is treated to a twenty-minute steam bath at a temperature of 167 degrees Fahrenheit, which kills all germs and organic matter. The bottles are not opened then till ready for serving to the infant. Ten thousand 6-ounce bottles can be pasteurized daily at the St. Louis plant.

By this means Mr. Strauss succeeded in reducing the infant mortality 50 per cent the first year after establishing his plant at New York in 1898. He was formerly health commissioner of New York and concluded that the plants were such an urgent necessity that he put his own means into them. He has contributed for the plants in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis.

The newly-organized St. Louis Pure Milk Association will operate the Strauss plant, selling milk at 1 cent a bottle, or giving it away free to the poor. Officers of this association are Dr. Albert Merrill, president; W. H. McClain, secretary.

KNOTTY PROBLEMS OF ARMS

Could Man With But One Arm Hold Pistol and Search Pockets at Same Time?

Could a one-armed highwayman simultaneously hold a pistol to his victim's head and go through his pockets?

This uestion arose in the St. Louis Court of Criminal Correction Tuesday morning, when James Joyce was arraigned before Judge McDonald on a charge of highway robbery.

Joyce is charged with having robbed Emil Allus of 6.7 South Broadway. Allus says he was robbed by a one-armed man, believed to be Joyce, and that the highwayman held a pistol to his head while he went through his pockets.

GOV. DOCKERY IS SILENT

Will Not Discuss His Proposed Candidacy for Delegate.

Gov. Dockery, who it is now generally believed will be selected as one of Missouri's four delegates at large to the national Democratic convention, remarked to the Post-Dispatch Tuesday that he had decided to forego a discussion of politics during his stay in St. Louis, but said significantly that he hoped harmony would prevail among his party associates.

"Will you announce yourself as a candidate for delegate at large?" the governor was asked.

"I am not a candidate for anything," he said. "There is a lot of work ahead of me at Jefferson City and I am not worrying over the political situation."

The governor thinks the Democracy will be triumphant this year in Missouri as it has been for more than a quarter of a century and he is convinced he says that the next President of the United States will be a Democrat.

SHOT HIMSELF IN HER PRESENCE

Richard Carey Fires Bullet Into His Body After Quarreling With Mrs. Della King.

Richard Carey of Glenn Carbon, Ill., shot himself in the stomach last night in the presence of Mrs. Della King, on whom he had been calling. A love quarrel is said to have preceded the shooting.

Immediately afterward the wounded man was put on a street car and brought to Henrietta Hospital, East St. Louis, by Mrs. King, Alonzo Saville, at whose home she lived, and Webster and Charles Hays. Carey is in a critical condition.

IGORROTES HAVE BOLOS OUT FOR THE WEATHER MAN

The Igorrotes at the Fair are whetting their bolos for the weather man. They are disgusted with St. Louis weather. Their rush huts have become so cold and damp that they are unhealthful, and the Igorrotes have been compelled to move into the headquarter building, where they are grouping around stoves and burning all the coal they can get. Work on the reservation is at a standstill, as it is upon every other part of the Filipino reservation.

Denver Elects Mayor Today.

DENVER, May 17.—Contrary to anticipations, no serious disturbances marked the opening of the polls today in the first city election under the new charter. While there are five tickets, the contest lies between the Democratic ticket, headed by Robert W. Speer for mayor, which is supported by the public utility corporations, and the Republican ticket, headed by John W. Springer, which has been advocated by all the newspapers and endorsed by many Democrats.

ASKED EXPLANATION, GETS HAIR PULLED

Former Governor McMillin of Tennessee and Editor Fight in Memphis Hotel Lobby.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 17.—Hair was pulled and more serious trouble was narrowly averted between prominent state politicians this morning in the lobby of the Tulane Hotel. Ex-Gov. McMillin and W. R. Romaine, the latter editor of the Pulaski Citizen, met for the first time since editorial comments on Gov. McMillin's position on the whisky interests of Tennessee appeared in the Citizen.

An explanation was requested by Gov. McMillin, and bystanders state that the editor replied in facetious language, informing the governor that the paper was widely read, and that his request was the first received for an explanation of simple language.

In the excitement that followed, no one was found who could state how the row started, but a bunch of hair discovered on the floor of the hotel lobby blended in color with that of the ex-governor. Friends separated the men.
